Prominent Warren Men Die

Clifford Betts

Clifford Betts Civic Leader, Is Dead at 74

Clifford R. Betts, well-known industrialist and civic leader, died Friday afternoon at his home, 350 Buchanan st. Mr. Betts, 74, had been ill for several years.

He was chairman of the board of Betts Machine Company and Tiona-Betts, Inc.

Mr. Betts was born in Warren Feb. 11, 1893, the son of Louis and Ida Grindlay Betts and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Grindlay, all pioneer residents of Warren. After holding positions in Youngstown, Detroit, Buffalo and Pittsburgh, he returned to Warren and assumed management of Betts Foundry and Machine Company, originally founded by his father in 1901.

In 1945 he moved the plant from Fourth ave. to its present location at 1800 Pennsylvania ave. w. Under his guidance, the business continued to expand and become a leader in the manufacture of safety lamps and valves for the petroleum trucking industry.

Later the company acquired Warren Manufacturing Company, an affiliated corporation at Starbrick and Tiona-Betts, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary at 1602 Pennsylvania ave. w.

Mr. Betts' long interest in scouting dated back to 1920, when he was a scoutmaster in Youngstown, Ohio, and subsequently a scoutmaster in Detroit and Buffalo.

In Warren he served as president of Chief Cornplanter Council from 1956 to 1958 and that year was presented the Silver Beaver Award, highest Boy Scout council honor. He also received membership in the "Order of the Arrow", another Scout honor award.

His dedication to young people was expressed also through his activity as president of the board of trustees of the YMCA, as a past president of the Warren Boys Choir, and as a charter member of the Warren Hot Stove baseball league. He sponsored the Betts softball team in the Warren softball league and was largely responsible for the erection of lights at Carbon Field for night ball games.

Mr. Betts was president of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce in 1955 and under his leadership this group was enlarged and reorganized. He was chairman in 1954 of the Warren County Chapter American Red Cross and a permanent member of its advisory board.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church and the Conewango Club, and past president of the Warren Kiwanis Club.

The esteem in which he was held by his employees was shown in 1961, on the occasion of the company's 60th anniversary year. At a company dinner

Warren Lowe

Warren Lowe, Prothonotary, Dies at Age 66

Warren G. Lowe, Warren County prothonotary and clerk of courts, died at Warren General Hospital at 9:40 p.m. Friday at the age of 66.

Long active in the Republican party, Lowe was a native of Freehold Twp. He was the son of the late Eldred G. Lowe, a former Warren County commissioner.

In his first try for public office in 1959, he won the GOP nomination as prothonotary by a wide majority. He led the ticket in the fall election of that year, and again in 1963, when he ran unopposed. He was also unopposed in last year's primary and general elections.

Lowe was affiliated with the Pennsylvania Department of Highways for 23 years and served 12 years as county highway superintendent. He was a former member of the Republican county executive committee.

A veteran of World War I and a graduate of Warren High School, he was a member of Grace Methodist Church, and had been active in local veterans' affairs.

He is survived by his wife, Geraldine Lewis Lowe; two sons, Delbert Lewis, of Lansdale, Pa., and Warren G. Jr., of McKeesport, Pa.; one sister, Mrs. Bert Sowles, of Warren; three brothers, Louis M. Lowe of Erie, Harold M. Lowe of Summit, N.J., and Dr. Raymond E. Lowe of Warren; seven grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements, presently incomplete. A funeral notice will be published in Monday's paper.

Postal Prices To Go Up At Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't go out and stock up on five-cent stamps to try to beat the postal rate increase. Starting Sunday you'll just have to add a one-cent stamp if you want to use them to mail a letter.

But in case you do want some five-cent stamps, officials say the Post Office Department has plenty on hand—1.2 billion, to be exact.

Postal rates go up to six cents for regular first-class letters effective on all mail postmarked after Saturday midnight. The Post Office has about four billion six-cent stamps on hand to meet the initial demand, and nearly two billion penny stamps to help the public use up all the five-centers.

Officials say, however, there won't be any difficulty selling all the five-cent stamps on hand. They still will be useful for postal cards which go up from four to five cents on Sunday.

The other major rate changes effective Sunday: air mail letters go from eight to ten cents; airmail postal cards from six to eight cents each.

Co. Jail Report

Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr. reported December activities at the county jail with seven male, two female and two juvenile prisoners processed and committed. A total of 154 days was served and 450 meals consumed by prisoners. Meals for guards totaled 213.

Spock, Coffin Indicted

BOSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury Friday indicted pediatrician Benjamin Spock, Yale University chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., and three other men on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

Justice Department officials said the case would be tried in federal court in Boston at a date not yet determined.

Spock and others have vehemently opposed the U.S. participation in the Vietnam war, and condemned the drafting of young men to fight there.

Spock, long famous for his book on baby care, is 64 and lives in New York City. Coffin, 43, lives in New Haven, Conn.

Also indicted by the grand jury were Michael Ferber, 23, of Boston, a graduate student at Harvard University; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author from New York City and Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 33, of Washington, D.C., co-director of the Institute for Policy Studies.

The Justice Department said the conspiracy included a meeting last Oct. 16 at the Arlington Street Church in which draft resisters allegedly burned their draft cards at the church altar during a protest ceremony.

The FBI said Spock and the others will not be arrested but will be asked to appear before the court at an unspecified date.

Spock charged the indictment appeared to be an attempt to intimidate opponents of the war in Vietnam.

In a news conference at his New York City apartment, Spock said: "I have no qualms about going to jail. This trial will better dramatize the illegal and immoral war in Vietnam and if this trial will further my efforts to stop it, so much the better."

"If they're trying to intimidate people opposed to the war, they're sadly mistaken," Spock said of the role he played in the alleged conspiracy.

"We gave young men moral and financial support to end this illegal war and commit acts of civil disobedience because we are so absolutely convinced that this war is illegal and immoral."

The indictment charged that the conspiracy called for a nationwide program of resistance to the operations of the Selective Service System.

If convicted of violating the Selective Service laws, the five could be fined $10,000 and imprisoned for five years.

Hearing on Teacher Pay Set at Erie

HARRISBURG (AP) — A schedule of public hearings on proposed teacher salary increases and related educational matters was announced Friday by the House Basic Education Committee.

A measure is pending in the House to raise the minimum salary for teachers from $4,500 to $6,000 annually.

Among those pressing for prompt action on the legislation is the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which claims a membership of 80,000. Chairman Donald W. Fox, R-Lawrence, of the House committee said the first hearing would be held in Harrisburg Jan. 30.

Subsequent hearings are scheduled for Feb. 6 at Erie; Feb. 12 in Philadelphia; Feb. 13 at an undetermined site in the Philadelphia suburban area; Feb. 19 in Scranton; Feb. 20 at State College; and Feb. 27 in Pittsburgh.

Struthers to Purchase Microwave Co.

The stockholders of Douglas Microwave Co. approved Thursday the previously announced plan of Struthers Wells to acquire the assets and business of Douglas.

Douglas Microwave will receive 113,604 shares of Struthers Wells in exchange for their assets and business. The company will then be liquidated and the Struthers Wells shares distributed to the shareholders on a basis of four Struthers shares for one share of Douglas.

U.S. Asks Israel for Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has submitted a bill for $3.3 million to Israel for compensation of the families of 34 Navy men killed June 8 when Israeli planes and torpedo boats attacked an American naval vessel in the Mediterranean.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said Friday the bill was submitted in Tel Aviv Dec. 29.

The Liberty, a communications intelligence ship, was hit during the Arab-Israeli war. A number of Israeli jets made six strafing runs over the ship, followed 20 minutes later by three torpedo boats that fired at least two torpedoes.

The Israeli government immediately expressed regret and said it was ready to make amends.

In calculating the amounts of compensation for the 34 families, the loss of support for the families and their "emotional anguish" have been taken into consideration, McCloskey said. He said he did not know how the amount will be distributed to the 34 families.

Erie Diocese Announces Building Plan

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Four new buildings are scheduled for an expansion program that will cost the Erie Roman Catholic Diocese $4,475,000.

Plans announced by the Most Rev. John F. Whealon, the Erie bishop, call for the erection of two homes for the aged near DuBois and Sharon, a home for unwed mothers in Crawford County and replacement of the original building at the St. Mary's Home for the Aged in Erie.

The 12-county diocese hopes to raise at least $1.25 million among its members by mid-April to help finance the program.

Bishop Whealon said the diocese will also try to obtain financial help from the government.

Israel, Jordan Exchange Fire

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged fire for more than two hours across the Jordan River Friday. Three Israeli soldiers were wounded. There was no report of casualties from Jordan.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Jordanians opened fire about 25 miles south of the Sea of Galilee with small arms and, when the Israelis responded, cut loose with artillery.

Borough Council Sets Date for Special Meeting

Warren Borough Council will hold a special meeting Tuesday primarily to consider the acceptance or rejection of contracts for the swimming pool project.

Low bid on the construction and engineering of the project was offered by Campbell-Ellworth Inc. of Pittsburgh, with local offices on Jackson ave., Warren.

Other items expected to be discussed at the meeting will probably include the Conewango ave. extension project. The meeting is scheduled for 5 p.m.

U.S. Bombers Strike Near China Border

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers struck North Vietnamese targets within nine miles of the Red Chinese border Friday but spared areas around North Vietnam's two principal cities, Hanoi and Haiphong.

Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilots who carried out a chain of raids near the frontier reported destroying the Lang Son railroad bridge, a link in the supply route for war materials from Red China, and four anti-aircraft sites nearby.

The U.S. Command said two Air Force Thunderchiefs were shot down over the North Friday and the pilots were missing. The losses brought to five the number of American war planes since Wednesday, when clearing weather permitted massive raids into the enemy heartland.

A total of 781 U.S. planes have been downed in the North during the war.

A broadcast from Hanoi declared that the North Vietnamese shot down five jets Friday, boosting their claimed total since Wednesday to 15. Besides the two Thunderchiefs, U.S. headquarters has reported the loss of three other planes in that period — a Navy A4 Skyhawk, a Navy F8 Crusader and an Air Force F105 Thunderchief.

Meanwhile, a Soviet protest that the explosion of an American delayed-action bomb had disabled a Soviet freighter at Haiphong Thursday pointed up a diplomatic hazard in the air offensive. The U.S. State Department tentatively apologized to Moscow.

The U.S. Command listed an attack on a railroad siding 20 miles northeast of Hanoi as the closest strike to either the capital or Haiphong Friday.

No explanation was given for the warplanes' skirting the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial corridor, which they had pounded with heavy attacks on the two previous days.

Big B52 Stratofortresses, striking in South Vietnam close to the Cambodian border, hit suspected enemy troop concentrations in Kontum Province, some 270 miles northeast of Saigon Saturday.

U.S. Voices Regret Over Ship Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States voiced regret to Russia Friday about any U.S. bombing of Soviet ships in Haiphong harbor. But it said accidents can happen.

This was the State Department's preliminary response as Washington began an investigation into Moscow's latest charge of American bomber damage to Soviet merchant vessels in North Vietnamese ports.

Moscow reported what it called a piratical attack on the 3,726-ton Pereslavl-Zalessky during an air raid on Haiphong Thursday. U.S. officials tended to view this protest as somewhat more serious than similar ones lodged last summer.

That is because for the first time Moscow indicated it may arm its merchant vessels.

The Soviets said the vessel was unloading a cargo of flour when eight bombs fell nearby, smashing its stern and blowing holes in the hull.

Without confirming or denying any U.S.-caused damage to the Russian vessel pending an inquiry, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said:

"Now if any damage to international shipping in the Haiphong area was the result of ordnance dropped by U.S. aircraft, it was inadvertent and is regretted."

"Careful precautions are and will continue to be taken to avoid such damage."

"Unfortunately it is impossible to eliminate completely the risk that foreign vessels entering or remaining in the area of hostilities may sustain unintentional damage as the result of actions by one or the other side."

Moscow previously asserted that U.S. bombers damaged Russian freighters in North Vietnamese ports on June 2 and again on June 30, 1967.

Viet Cong Terror Claims More Lives

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists killed civilians at the rate of more than 10 a day in 1967, twice that of 1966, the U.S. mission reported Friday.

The report said the Viet Cong killed 3,820 civilians and kidnapped 5,368 in a campaign designed to disrupt the pacification program. In 1966, 1,618 civilians were slain and 3,507 abducted.

"The increase in Viet Cong terrorism during the year, as inhumane as it is inexcusable, suggests increasing enemy desperation," said Ambassador Robert Komer, chief U.S. adviser in the pacification program.

In striking at the civilians, the Viet Cong seeks to eliminate local political leaders, teachers, and pacification workers. Captives sometimes are forced to work in labor teams for the Viet Cong.

As grim as the total is, it is slight compared with South Vietnamese civilian casualties from the war.

Government hospital statistics last month indicated 24,000 would be killed or dying of wounds in 1967 with 76,000 more wounded. The death list is greater than the 21,290 allied troops who died in combat in 1967.

An attempt was made to determine if the civilian casualties were the victims of allied or Communist attacks, but the South Vietnamese Ministry of Health gave up the plan for lack of resources.

On a flying visit to South Vietnam, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Friday there had been improvement in the care of civilian war casualties since his last visit.

"I have seen a significant difference since 1965," he told reporters in the northern town of Hoi An. "I think there has been a definite swing up, an improvement."

Kennedy, who has criticized the treatment of civilian victims of the war, declined to say if he thought the improvement was enough. He said he would make a judgment after he completes his 12-day tour.

Lee Kelley, local Forest Service supervisor, announced Friday that Wayne Mann, from Superior National Forest, Minn., will replace deputy supervisor Don Gorton, of the local office, who has been transferred to the eastern regional office in Milwaukee, Wis.

The new deputy, a native of Michigan and a graduate of Michigan State University, will assume his duties locally on Jan. 28. Mann has previously worked in the Mark Twain National Forest and Chippewa National Forest in Minn.

Mini'd Knees Freeze At Minus 40 Degrees

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The historic clash between rising hemlines and plunging temperatures turned Minneapolis into the Stalingrad of women's fashion. Since the advent of the miniskirt two years ago, designers have waited tensely for the precise moment when their thigh-high creations would be tested under the most demanding, uncompromising conditions.

That moment arrived in the Twin Cities of Minneapolis—St. Paul early Thursday when the wind chill reached the -68 level. (Wind chill is a military device to calculate the combined effect of wind and cold. A wind chill of 68 below zero stems from 19 below on the thermometer and a wind of 21 miles an hour.)

The question: Is it possible for the women of Minnesota to be stylish without being stiff? With a wind chill of -68 can you be mod without being mortified? The Minneapolis Star dispatched one of its agents, with the average male's interest in the condition of women's knees, into the downtown metropolis to find out whether the city's women were still chic in this desperate hour.

The conclusion: Our women can take it. Ten years ago they might have looked like a washerwoman on their way to hang out clothes, but today they were fashionable although frigid, in a manner of speaking.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau, human flesh will freeze when the wind chill reaches -40.

"How long," a bureau spokesman was asked, "will it take a woman's unprotected knee to freeze at -68 wind chill?"

"As in so many other social situations," he replied, "it depends a good deal on the flexibility of the woman's knees. By this I mean whether she has any fat on them, or how much protection she is getting from her clothing. As a rule of thumb, I would guess at -40 the woman's knees would be frozen solid, stiff and hingeless in about 20 minutes."

Most skirts were still worn resolutely above the knee Thursday, ranging from a half-inch to the four-inch models worn by some of the nurses at General Hospital.

"Even when it gets this cold," said Peggy Milford, "most women still are thinking about how they look and not how warm they're going to be. You can almost always do something about the cold, like come in."

Tell of Delay in Medical Supplies

Administration Denies It's Anti-Drugstore

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Two U.S. doctors at a Vietnamese civilian hospital told Sen. Edward M. Kennedy Friday they often wait three or four months to get urgently needed medicine and supplies donated by the American government.

Kennedy, D-Mass., is making a 12-day tour of Vietnam's refugee and civilian health facilities to check for himself the veracity of reports made to his Senate subcommittee on refugees and escapees that facilities are inadequate.

On a visit to the civilian hospital in Da Nang, Kennedy was told by Dr. Gilbert Herod, Indianapolis, Ind., that crutches ordered in May arrived a few months ago.

"Our emergency generator has been out of order for the last six months," Herod said. "We have had potable water only for the last two or three weeks. We were washing our hands in water filled with bacteria."

Herod told Kennedy that distribution of U.S. drugs, formerly handled by the U.S. Agency for International Development, had been turned over to the Vietnamese government. Now, he said, "supplies take six weeks, often three or four months. It's getting better, however."

The Da Nang hospital handles about 5,000 civilians injured by the war each year, Herod said, and admits about 2,000 civilian patients each month. He said a shortage of orthopedic surgeons has caused some patients to wait months for treatment.

Dr. Allan Pribble, Covington, Ky., told Kennedy that it also was difficult for the hospital to get vaccines.

"We've made requests for vaccines," he said. "We're short of all of them."

Pribble said health officials had to wait until a case of a dangerous disease was reported, and then teams are sent to vaccinate the local population.

"We need a huge program in public health," he said. "If we could come over here and build sewers and public dump facilities we could cut the disease rate in half."

"Unfortunately this doesn't get as much attention as napalm-burned children," he said.

Both doctors, who have been in Vietnam for 18 months, said napalm-burned children were an extremely small part of civilians injured by the war.

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Two U.S. doctors at a Vietnamese civilian hospital told Sen. Edward M. Kennedy Friday they often wait three or four months to get urgently needed medicine and supplies donated by the American government.

Kennedy, D-Mass., is making a 12-day tour of Vietnam's refugee and civilian health facilities to check for himself the veracity of reports made to his Senate subcommittee on refugees and escapees that facilities are inadequate.

On a visit to the civilian hospital in Da Nang, Kennedy was told by Dr. Gilbert Herod, Indianapolis, Ind., that crutches ordered in May arrived a few months ago.

"Our emergency generator has been out of order for the last six months," Herod said. "We have had potable water only for the last two or three weeks. We were washing our hands in water filled with bacteria."

Herod told Kennedy that distribution of U.S. drugs, formerly handled by the U.S. Agency for International Development, had been turned over to the Vietnamese government. Now, he said, "supplies take six weeks, often three or four months. It's getting better, however."

The Da Nang hospital handles about 5,000 civilians injured by the war each year, Herod said, and admits about 2,000 civilian patients each month. He said a shortage of orthopedic surgeons has caused some patients to wait months for treatment.

Judge Flick Gives 3 Jail Sentences

Seven persons appeared for sentencing yesterday before Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr., with only three jail sentences meted out.

Charles L. Davis, of 103 S. Carver st., Warren, charged with driving under the influence following a three-car traffic mishap on Nov. 21 last year, was ordered to pay costs, $120 fine and serve three days in jail with credit for one day already served.

John Stino, RD 1, Pittsfield, cited for leaving the scene of an accident, was sentenced to pay costs, $100 fine and two days in jail.

Frank Notoro, Ellison street, Clarendon, charged with corrupting the morals of children, was ordered to pay costs, $100 fine and three days in jail. Chief Deputy Sheriff Richard E. Hegerty testified that his office was contacted by Warren Area High School officials relative to the absence from school on several days of a 15-year-old girl.

According to testimony the defendant had called the school on one day to report on behalf of the girl's mother that the former was ill. Hegerty stated that on the following day, Notoro appeared at the school to again report the girl's illness. The girl, the deputy said, admitted to the illegal absences. Judge Flick advised the defendant of the seriousness of interfering with family and school discipline.

Also appearing for sentencing was Welcome M. Barhite, of RD 2, Russell, charged with attempt with intent to kill and pointing a deadly weapon. Barhite's attorney asked the court to dismiss the attempt with intent to kill, a felony charge, due to extenuating circumstances and accept a plea of nolo contendere to the lesser charge. The judge agreed to both requests and also approved the waiving of testimony. Disposition of sentence was suspended and Barhite ordered to pay costs and placed on six months probation.

Testimony was also waived in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Donna Jean Sherwood of Tidioute, charged with marrying the spouse of another. She was placed on probation for six months and ordered to pay costs.

Albert Rose, RD 1, Russell, charged with being a public nuisance after his cattle were permitted to run loose on a public highway, was permitted to plead nolo contendere, pay costs and one year probation. The area farmer was also instructed to keep his fences in good repair.

Kenneth Klakamp, 13 Madison ave., Warren charged with larceny on a complaint filed by his ex-wife, was ordered to pay costs. His wife had asked that charges be dropped. The items taken by the defendant had been returned and restitution made.

None of the students on the bus was injured. The teams continued on to Pittsburgh for meets with the University of Pittsburgh Saturday.

Charge Boy in Fatal Beating

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP) — State police have arrested a teenage boy and charged him with beating an elderly woman to death.

James E. Brumbaugh, 19, of Tarentum, was arrested Thursday — a day after Mabel A. Bopp, 69, died.

Brumbaugh had previously been arrested on charges of burglarizing Mrs. Bopp's home in Glip Township, Armstrong County, but was released on $1,000 bond.

Authorities said he went to the woman's home Dec. 31 and gained entrance by asking to use the telephone.

An autopsy performed after Mrs. Bopp's death Wednesday showed she died of injuries suffered in a beating, according to Coroner Jack Kennedy.

Charge Youth With Two Erie Assaults

ERIE—Erie police, working around the clock, Friday charged an 18-year-old Millcreek youth with the recent sexual assaults of two Erie women.

Arrested late Thursday night at his residence was James Wilcott, of 1621 Fillmore ave. He was arraigned before an alderman on the two charges of criminal assault and released on $2,500 bond on each charge after pleading not guilty. The suspect was booked at 1 a.m. Friday after the two women positively identified him as their assailant, police said.

The arrest came after several weeks of intensive police work when a man escaped after attempting to assault a St. Vincent Hospital employee on Dec. 15.

Because of different identifications made by other assault victims, police believe two and possibly three men have been involved in the recent series of assaults in the city.

Police are continuing to press their investigation of the unsolved assaults.

Young Wife Dies in Fire

Coolie Influx Seen Behind Peace Moves

A severe labor shortage and fear of its long-range political consequences could be an important factor behind cautious peace probes now being attributed to Ho Chi Minh's Communist regime in North Vietnam.

At least some in the ruling North Vietnamese Politburo may fear a superabundance of help from Communist China could mean entrenchment of Peking's influence.

Sources in Paris with contacts in Hanoi say Communist China has stepped up by five times since last fall the number of coolie laborers sent into North Vietnam to repair bomb damage to roads, bridges, rail lines

Gowanda Wrestlers On Eisenhower Mat

A wrestling showdown will for the Blue and Gold and Jim Sherry goes to the mat at 165. The Eisenhower Knights and Gowanda Panthers. The match is re-scheduled from last Thursday night. The varsity match starts at 8:00 and the jayvees wrestle at 6:30 in the Eisenhower High School gym.

Hopes for the Knights as a league contender will be put on the line in this all important contest. Coach Don Johns is looking for one of the toughest matches of the season as his grapplers face a revengeful Panther squad.

In last year's contest, the Knights put Gowanda out of contention for the valley crown in a real cliffhanger, 23-21, which was decided in the final match.

The Panthers hold a 3-0 record in the Southern Tier, picking up wins over Maple Grove, Salamanca, and Westfield. Gowanda shut out Westfield in their opener, 56-0.

Comparative scores show that Gowanda downed Salamanca, 28-14, and the Knights triumphed over Salamanca, 27-19.

The Knights remain 2-1 in league action, their only loss being to Southwestern. A victory for the Blue and Gold would have moved them into second place in a tie with Gowanda. The Knights have collected two other wins in pre-league action.

Veterans for Gowanda are Howard Parrish (133) and Paul Phillips (112). Phillips was sectional champ at 103 last year and Parrish was second at 127. Both boys remain undefeated and were Gowanda's only champions in the holiday tournament, which the Panthers won by four points over Southwestern.

Coach Johns has moved Gary Dalrymple down from the 133 spot to 127. Dalrymple wrestled at 127 up until this year when he has been taking a poke at 133.

The only other changes in the Knight lineup come at 133, '35, and a toss-up at 180. Dan Burford will be stepping in at 133.

76ers And Knicks Notch Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A strong second half carried the Philadelphia 76ers to a 125-113 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers in the windup of National Basketball Association doubleheader Friday night.

In the first game, Dick Van Arsdale's pro career high of 30 points set the pace as the New York Knicks overcame a 12-point deficit to beat the Lakers 125-113.

The Eastern Division leading 76ers led 27-25 at the end of the first period, with Los Angeles coming back to a 56-56 halftime tie. Hal Greer scored 11 and Walt Chamberlain 10 in a 35-point third quarter to give the 76ers a 91-84 edge going into the last period.

With 6:48 remaining Philadelphia built up an 11-point lead, 109-97. The Lakers never got closer than eight points thereafter.

Chamberlain led all scorers with 35. Chet Walker chipped in with 28 and Greer added 23. Elgin Baylor's 23 led the Lakers.

After a 25-25 first quarter, Reed tallied 13 second-period points, giving New York a 55-47 halftime lead.

Bellamy's 15 points and 14 by Van Arsdale in the 38-point third period put New York in a commanding 93-77 lead going into the last quarter. Hitting on 12 of 14 attempts, Van Arsdale scored a career high of 30 points, three over his former peak. Reed had 28, Bellamy 23.

Jim Washington and Keith Erickson each scored 23 for the Lakers. Washington also had 23 rebounds and blocked eight shots.

Beaty Cage Team Falls To Knights

Guyton scored 23 points for game-high honors. Bowen had 14 for the Knights and Turner added 10.

Big Craig Young was the only Beaty cager in double figures with 12 points.

Monday, the Dragon frosh hosts Corry at 6:30 p.m. in the Beaty gym. A preliminary contest will pit an eighth gradet team against the eighth graders.

Warren's Power Boat Squadron Elects Officers

The Warren Power Squadron operating under the wing of the Erie Power Squadron, met Thursday night in the YMCA.

Officers elected were as follows: "Bob" Foster, Lt. Commander; "Bill" Hanson, Exec. Officer; "Ken" Wallin, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Warren Squadron is a member of the United States Power Squadron, which is the largest non-profit educational institution in the world.

The purpose of the squadron is to establish a high standard of skill in the handling of all boats, both power and sail, to encourage the study of navigation, to cooperate with the agencies of the United States Government charged with the enforcement of the laws and regulations relating to navigation, and to stimulate interest in activities which will tend to the upbuilding of our Navy, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine.

Plans are being made for an advanced course in seamanship to be started soon.

BUT NOT LAST NIGHT

Warren's Brad Waxman (top) has Jim Monarch of Franklin on his back in the second period of their 127-pound match last night, but couldn't hold him for the pin. The Dragons had to be satisfied with nine decisions in 12 matches for a 27-9 victory in the opening of Section II competition for Ralph Clark of McDowell. See story below. (Photo by Mahan)

Warren Grapplers Thump Pin-Proof Knights 27-9

By LARRY G. STEELE, Sports Editor

Warren Area High School's wrestling team posted its first Section II victory and fourth straight of the season by whipping Franklin last night, 27-9, in a long, sometimes boring evening in the WAHS gym.

The Dragons took nine of 12 varsity matches, all by decision, and three losses were all by the margin of one point.

The combination of the holiday layoff and a recent rash of flu cases showed up in the Dragons' performance on the mats. Added to the Knights' determination not to be pinned, the result was a far from top exhibition of wrestling.

Bob Sequist (95), Mark Williams (103), Steve Jones (120), Brad Waxman (127), Jim Mead (133), Mike Maines (145), Ray Lowe (154), Darrell Pusateri (180) and Lee Bryan (heavyweight) were all winners for the Dragons.

Franklin avoided falls in most cases by simply standing up, while the Dragons scored heavily on the offense.

For the Knights, Pat Scurry (112), Jim VanTassle (138) and Chuck Harmon (165) all won decisions to stay undefeated, but had to work for their victories.

Warren's Dan Albough registered the only pin in varsity competition in an 88-pound exhibition match. He stretched Dave Bowen of the Knights midway through the second period after taking a 4-2 lead.

At 95-pounds, Sequist put the first points on the scoreboard for the Dragons by whipping Jeff Judson, 3-1. His margin of victory came 30 seconds after the start of the match on a takedown. Judson tallied an escape in the period, each rode out one stanza and Sequist added a riding time point.

Williams easily dominated Franklin's Gerry Dunlap at 103, scoring in both the first and third periods, riding out the second and adding two points for control time in a 6-0 shutout.

Dane Sorensen and Franklin's Pat Scurry, both unbeaten in dual competition, staged one of the more exciting matches of the evening at 112. Sorensen fell behind 2-1 in the first period, then scored on a reversal to lead, 3-2, going into the last two minutes.

Scurry took a 4-3 victory on a reversal with 29 seconds left in the match to make the team score Warren 6, Franklin 3.

At 120, Jones whitewashed Franklin veteran Steve Daniels, 6-0. The senior transfer student, still showing signs of improvement, took control after a no-takedown opening period and coasted to the victory.

Waxman, subbing for Doug Sorensen at 127, scored in every period on his way to a convincing 11-3 romp over Jim Monarch of the Knights. He had Monarch on his back in the middle stanza, but couldn't hold him and had to be satisfied with the decision.

Mead, still unbeaten in dual competition, kept things rolling at 133 for the Dragons by routing Franklin's Bob Wilber, 6-0. A well-executed barrel roll for a first period takedown was followed by a third period reversal after he had ridden out the middle stanza. He posted nearly five minutes of control time in dominating the match.

Warren's Steve Kaiser took VanTassle down to the last 26 seconds before surrendering another one point decision, 5-4. The pair was tied at 4-4 going into the final two minutes, then VanTassle tallied an escape for the second Knight victory.

With the Dragons holding a comfortable 15-6 advantage, Maines found himself in early trouble at 145 against Barry Dunlap and had to rally for a 10-5 triumph and stay undefeated. Dunlap took a quick 4-0 lead on a takedown and predicament, but Maines came back strong and won going away.

At 154, Warren's Lowe broke a 2-2 deadlock with Mike Scanlon of the Knights near the end of the first period on a reversal, scored again on a switch in the middle stanza and piled up 4:30 in riding time for an 8-2 victory.

A penalty point cost Warren's Bob Thompson a draw with Harmon at 165. The Knights had scored on a takedown and Thompson reversed him in the first period to knot the match score at 2-2. The Dragon was called for locked hands, a one-point penalty, while riding out the middle stanza and Harmon kept control in the last two minutes for Franklin's last three-point, 3-2.

Co-captain Pusateri found Fred Blackhurst, the Knights' All-State football guard, strong but inexperienced at 180. Blackhurst was penalized for a body slam in the second period, then an escape and 2:35 in riding time gave Pusateri a 4-1 victory.

Bryan waltzed to an 8-0 rout over George Chelekis of the Knights in the final match of the night, scoring in every period. As in most of the previous matches, the Dragon grappler worked for the fall, but was never able to quite gain position on a squirming opponent.

Warren's junior varsity made it a sweep by defeating the Little Knights, 38-10, in preliminary action.

The Dragons continue in conference competition next Tuesday by hosting the Corry Beavers, then travel to Rocky Grove on Friday night.

Browns, Rams Clash In Playoff Contest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams and Cleveland Browns have arrived in the right place—but at the wrong time. As a result, they'll be taking out their disappointment on each other Sunday.

The Rams and Browns, beaten in the National Football League's conference playoffs two weeks ago, collide Sunday in the annual Playoff Bowl, a scrap in Miami's Orange Bowl Stadium. A week from Sunday, Green Bay's NFL kings, tackle Oakland, the American Football League champion, in the Super Bowl at the same site.

"We'd hoped to be here for the Super Bowl," Los Angeles Coach George Allen confessed Friday as the Rams labored through two-day workouts—unprecedented for a Playoff Bowl club. "It was a tremendous disappointment."

"We were so humiliated at Dallas," said Gary Collins, Cleveland's veteran pass catcher and punter, during the Browns' final full scale drill. "We've got to stay with the Rams."

Dallas crushed the Browns 52-14 on Dec. 24 for the Eastern Conference crown. One day earlier, the Rams bowed to the Packers 28-7 at Green Bay in the Western Conference title game. Green Bay then nailed its third straight NFL championship last Sunday with a 21-17 nod over the Cowboys.

A Playoff Bowl crowd of about 50,000 is expected to watch the Rams' Fearsome Foursome—L. A. M. A. R. Lundy, Deacon Jones, Roger Brown and Merlin Olsen—battle Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, the NFL's rushing champion, in the nationally televised game over CBS, starting at 1:45 p.m., EST.

The huge Los Angeles front four spearheaded the Rams' 11-2 regular season finish while Kelly and running mate Ernie Green led the Browns to a 9-5 mark over the regular schedule.

Roman Gabriel, a rugged, 6-foot-4 quarterback, directs the LA attack, throwing to wide receivers Bernie Casey and Jack Snow and handing off to driving runners Dick Bass and Les Josephson. The Browns' powerful ground game is complemented by veteran Frank Ryan's passing to Collins, Paul Warfield and the running backs.

Each member of the winning Playoff Bowl team will get $1,200—$700 more than each loser.

The Rams are making their first appearance in the contest. Cleveland has played twice before, bowing to Detroit in 1961 and to Green Bay in 1964.

Franklin Romps Dragons; Eagles, Bulldogs Dumped

Disaster was at hand last night as four of the five county cage teams fell to their opponents. The biggest surprise of all was Brockway's victory over Sheffield, 62-56. Warren fell at the hands of Franklin, 83-47; Youngsville was defeated by Spartansburg, 56-46; and East Forest trounced Tidoute, 110-70. The Eisenhower Knights chalked up the only victory for the county as they squeezed by Pleasantville, 65-62.

The Wolverines surrendered their undefeated record to a tough Brockway squad that captured a four-point lead in the first period and was determined to keep it.

The department of rebounding seemed to be the Orange and Black problem. Robbie Hart was able to pull only nine balls off the boards for the Wolverines. The Rovers kept ahead of the Wolverines by profiting on their second and third shots.

The closest the Wolverines ever got to the Rovers was in the last quarter where they narrowed their deficit down to three points. However, a snappy Brockway offense quickly retaliated and built their lead up to the point where they could coast to victory on a six-point edge.

Wayne Swanson collected the most points for the Wolverines as he netted eight field goals and three buckets from the charity stripe for a total of 19. Swanson was down from his regular playing average of somewhat over 25-points a game.

Also in double figures for the Orange and Black were Robbie Hart and Mark McGuire. Hart poured in 13 points, McGuire netted 14.

The Eisenhower Knights collected their fourth victory in a row, and their first in the league. The Falcons held the edge on the Blue and Gold every quarter, except the most important one, the last one.

Bob Burlingame found no problem in handling Greg Holtz as he held the Falcon cager to 19 points. Burlingame netted 11 field goals and ten free throws to give himself a total of 32 points for the Knights.

The Blue and Gold played a close, controlled game of ball as they committed only eight fouls in the entire four quarters. On the other hand, the Knights profited on the 27 Falcon errors as they netted 17 free throws for a 63 percent average from the foul line.

Also hitting in double figures for the Knights was Tim Allen with 12 points. Stan Perrett collected 15 tallies for the Falcons while Joe Allis poured in ten. Junior Greg Johnson also hit the double columns for the Blue and Gold as he netted four buckets and three points from the foul line for a total of 11 points.

Warren's Dragons played a fair game of ball in the first half, where they hit from the floor for a 52 per cent average, but when they returned from the locker room for the final half their entire offense blew up as they shot only 12 per cent.

The Knights outscored the Dragons in every quarter including the last where they collected a 21-7 score. Fouling also hurt the Dragons as Ed O'Neil was forced to leave the game with more than a minute left in the third quarter.

Ed O'Neil managed to take scoring honors as he netted 14 points for the Blue and White. Dan Krumm was the only other Dragon to hit in the double figures as he collected 12 points.

Raye, Beban to Captain Hula Bowl Squads Today

HONOLULU (AP) — Their teammates tabbed rival quarterbacks Jimmy Raye of Michigan State and Gary Beban of UCLA as captains of their respective teams in Saturday's Hula Bowl Game, the last gasp of the collegiate season.

The game, which starts at noon, Hawaii time (5 p.m. EST) will be televised live nationally via the Lani Bird Communications Satellite.

Eight All-Americans are on hand including Beban, a ninth, Granville Liggins of Oklahoma,

Navy Lists Grid Slate

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's 1968 football schedule, released Friday by Capt. Alan R. Cameron, director of athletics, features six holdovers and four new opponents.

Penn State, the opening hurdle for the second straight season, Michigan, Pittsburgh, Notre Dame, Syracuse and Army are the clubs returning from the 1967 card. On the way to its first winning season since 1963, Navy beat five of those teams last fall, losing only to Notre Dame.

Boston College returns to the Navy schedule after a one-year absence. The other replacements are Air Force, Virginia and Georgia Tech for Rice, William and Mary, Duke and Vanderbilt.

The Midshipmen will meet three teams at neutral sites. Philadelphia will provide the setting for the Notre Dame game on Nov. 2 and the Army-Navy battle Nov. 30. The Navy-Air Force clash, scheduled for Oct. 12, has been awarded to Chicago.

Satisfactory Journey

NEW YORK—"We had a longer road to travel this season," said Allie Sherman, "than we ever let on to the players. From the time they reported to training camp last July, we never as much as hinted how rough a trip we thought it might be. But the team bounced back so vigorously from last place in the East to third in the overall standings that this had to be one of our more gratifying seasons."

The dandy little coach of the New York Giants is slowly unwinding from the tightly coiled strains of the football year, now relaxed sufficiently to deliver his own state of the union message. Gone are the doubts and uncertainties that had assailed him at a corresponding time a year ago. He is now convinced that his optimism finally has a basis in fact. Furthermore, the vast army of Giant followers, almost fanatical in their fervor, are also beginning to see flickers of hope for the future.

"When we looked back on the wreckage of the 1966 season," continued Allie, "we could see only scattered pieces. But we've welded them together into a hard core that can be expanded in all directions until we have a solid ball club of championship dimensions. That's why we're pleased with what has been accomplished and that's why last season was so satisfactory."

"With Fran Tarkenton running the show, we proved we could score. We were first in touchdowns, third behind Los Angeles and Baltimore in total points and a mere 106 yards short of being first in yards gained. This was in spite of a complete breakdown against Detroit and a partial letdown against the Bears. "Our defense also solidified itself. A year earlier injuries forced us to rotate so many men that nothing felt. It made a lot of work for a lot of people, too much so. But it had one advantage we didn't appreciate at the time. The constant shuffle gave needed experience to a number of green boys."

"After the 1966 season we were in a sorry trading situation even though we escaped without serious damage in the deal for Tarkenton. If we mortgaged our future slightly by yielding top draft choices for him, the price was worth it because we insured ourselves for the next 10 years by getting a proven star quarterback while he still was young."

"But most of our kids have now come on so strongly that we can swing deals without shaking any position. We don't have many old people around and the young ones improved so considerably that we'll go to training camp next July with a far sounder knowledge of what to anticipate."

Allie paused and stared off into space. He shook his head as he remembered one of his major question marks of last July. "Take the case of Ernie Koy," he said. "We didn't know what to expect of him. He came up flat in 1966. Would he return to his excellent showing of his rookie year or would he regress further? He returned. Along with Tucker Frederickson, he gave us as fine a pair of running backs as there was in the league. Tucker's second knee injury was an unfortunate break both for him and for us. But his operation was nowhere near as complicated as the first one and he should be better than ever next season."

"Last July we didn't dare dream that two rookies, Scott Eaton at cornerback and Ken Avery at linebacker, would come on so strongly or that Willie Young would develop so fast as an offensive tackle or that late trades would bring us Bob Lurtsema and Vince Costello to reinforce our defensive platoon or that three latecomers, Bruce Anderson, Roger Anderson and Willie Williams, would show so impressively."

It's indeed lucky for the Giants that so much potential strength has emerged from within. They already have yielded their first two draft choices and will be far down the line before they get their first shot. It will not be a bumper crop because most of the top collegians are juniors or sophomores. New York talent scouts have appraised 1,113 seniors and found good backs scarce with not more than a dozen standout linemen.

But they may get significant help elsewhere. Last year they began to grow their own prospects by sponsoring the Westchester Bulls as their top farm team. They already have recalled Randy Minnien, a ball carrier of considerable competence. They will invite to camp those they think have picked up experience to make the varsity. Among them are Doug Van Horn, a guard; Ronnie Elie, a back; and Bob Fiorini, a linebacker. All will arrive fully indoctrinated in the Giant system of play.

"You know me," said Allie with a deprecating grin. "I'm always inclined to hope for the best. This time I feel that my optimism is justified. We came further along the road than I ever dared expect, winning six more games than we had the season before. It would be ridiculous to think we can make another pick-up of six victories this year. But at least we can be sure that the Giants are on their way back toward the top."

was selected, but he was injured in the Orange Bowl and will not play.

Beban and Raye each has his own coach, Tommy Prothro of UCLA and Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State. Prothro is aided by Charlie McClendon of LSU and Daugherty by Paul Dietzel of South Carolina.

The coaches have agreed to stick to two offensive formations, one with three backs abreast and the other with a flanker, and standard defensive tactics.

Adrian Young, USC's All-America linebacker, was chosen defensive captain of the South team by his playing mates. The North picked co-defensive captains, John Williams of Minnesota and All-America Wayne Meyland of Nebraska.

The North has a bull elephant backfield of All-America Larry Csonka of Syracuse, Silas McKinnie of Iowa and Bob Apisa of Michigan State, all fullbacks by trade.

Apisa, a Honolulu boy, has been running at halfback and appears to be recovered from surgery on both knees. He is anxious to do well before the home town capacity crowd of 25,000 in Honolulu Stadium.

The North has won the last two exhibitions, 28-27 and 27-26. Close scores are customary in the game, which uses the rule

Backing up Raye at quarterback for the North is Rick Cassata of Syracuse. Beban's backup is Dick Hough of Hawaii, a former USC passer, who has been reunited with teammates Young and tackle Ron Yary, another Trojan All-American.

Young and Yary are long time opponents of Beban, who said he was "glad to have them on my side, for a change."

Indianapolis 500 race, it was announced Friday.

L.G. Trussdale, General Manager of Racing for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., and Ken Wallis, designer-builder of Wallis Engineering Inc., said the two cars are now being constructed and will feature a new approach to the four-wheel drive concept.

They said the cars are being built with enough spare parts for a third at the Wallis plant in Torrance, Calif.

Goodyear and Shelby Racing Co., Inc., of Los Angeles are taking part in the project.

Parnelli Jones introduced the turbine-powered car to Indianapolis last May and finished second when it broke down in the final laps after leading most of the way. The controversial car caused quite an uproar as many demanded it be outlawed from competition.

Wallis said power for the two cars will be furnished by General Electric turbine engines, which have been modified to meet his specifications.

The engines will comply with the United States Auto Club rule limiting the area of the engine's air intake to 15.99 square inches, Wallis added.

Turbine powered cars previously run at Indianapolis have been unlimited with regard to engine size while piston engines have had a definite displacement limit.

Wallis said his new four-wheel drive concept is a "hybrid mechanical-hydraulic system."

Torque is allocated to the four wheels on an individual basis and the ratio of torque among the wheels is automatically adjusted to the requirements of the vehicle during operation, Wallis added.

All Dowd, Shelby Racing Co. administrator, will be team manager.

South All-Stars Favored To Win 19th Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The deep South, in a deep slump in holiday football games, ranks as a touchdown favorite over the North in the 19th annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday.

The passing of Kim Hammond of Florida State and Dewey Warren of Tennessee gives the Dixie All-Stars their slim edge, although the Yankees have lost only one of nine bowl and all-star games this winter.

"Our boys aren't worrying about those losses," said South Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs. "They are going out there to win."

The North, coached by Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots, will be trying for its second straight victory in the play-for-pay debut of America's top college football seniors.

The Yankees, who still trail in the series 11-6-1, rolled to a 35-13 triumph a year ago.

A capacity crowd of more than 40,000 is expected this year for the game, which starts at 2 p.m., EST, and will be televised nationally by NBC.

Members of the winning team will collect $1,000 each, with the losers receiving $750.

Forzano Named Assistant by Cincy Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — The new Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League signed another assistant coach Friday—Rick Forzano, who has been backfield coach for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

Forzano, 38, is a native of Akron and a graduate of Kent State University. He was backfield coach at Navy for five years and head coach at the University of Connecticut for two years.

Bengals' president and coach Paul Brown said Forzano "has a good National League experience and has been working with a man (Cardinals' coach Charlie Winner, who used to work with me."

Cardinals' president Charles Bidwell Jr. said the signing of Forzano by the Bengals had no connection with any reported dissension on the St. Louis club,

The North is counting on the passing of Wyoming's Paul Toscano and Toledo's John Schneider to offset the aerial attack expected from the South.

Tulsa's Rick Eber and San Diego State's Haven Moses will be the passing targets for the North. The South is also loaded with talented receivers. All-America Dennis Homan of Alabama, Freddie Hyatt of Auburn, and the nation's leading catcher, Bob Goodridge of Vanderbilt, will be catching passes tossed by Hammond and Warren.

Defensively, the South is counting on tackles Claude Humphrey of Tennessee A & I and Dan Sartin of Mississippi, and on linebackers Fred Call of Texas El Paso, Jimmy Keyes of Mississippi and D. D. Lewis of Mississippi State.

The North's defensive secondary packs an explosive punch, with halfback Dick Anderson of Colorado the most feared Yankee. Anderson returned punts 62 and 69 yards for touchdowns in the North's victory in the Blue-Gray game a week ago.

Neither team is expected to do much running, although the North has powerful Jim Kick of Wyoming and the South can call on Bobby Duhon, getting his first assignment at running back after quarterbacking Tulane last season.

"It's much easier to put polish in your passing game than it is in your running attack," Stramm said, "and all of these boys can throw the ball."

Sweeney Is Wash. St. Grid Coach

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Montana State University coach Jim Sweeney was named the new head football coach at Washington State University Friday, succeeding Bert Clark.

The appointment to the $20,000 a year post was announced by WSU President W. Glenn Terrell.

Terrell said Sweeney will take over immediately under a one-year contract. Terrell said Sweeney plans to gather a staff as soon as possible.

Sweeney has been head coach at Montana State University since the spring of 1963. His teams have won three Big Sky Conference football championships, and his over-all record the past four years at the Bozeman, Mont., school is 31-19.

Terrell's announcement came after several hours of meetings with Sweeney and members of the university's board of regents.

Terrell said Sweeney previously met with members of the WSU Athletic Council. Terrell said WSU Athletic Director Stan Bates told him that Sweeney "is the best man for the job. He is highly respected by the athletes he has coached as well as by the general public."

Bates said between 50 and 60 applications were received for the job after Clark's contract was terminated last November. Clark's contract, at a reported $19,700, was terminated with one year to go.

Touchdown Club Honors Murray

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Murray, former Duke football coach and presently executive secretary of the American Football Coaches Association, was named Friday as the 1968 winner of the Touchdown Club of New York award.

It is given annually to the person deemed to have done the most during the previous year for football on the college level. He will receive it at a banquet Wednesday night.

During the season Hammond hit on 140 of 241 passes for Florida State for 1,991 yards, and he completed 37 of 53 throws last week in a 17-17 tie against Penn State in the Gator Bowl.

Toscano, whose Cowboys lost to Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl for the North's only holiday setback, connected on 134 of 241 passes and Schneider completed 127 throws for 1,650 yards for Toledo.

Mays Thinks Ruth's Mark Too Far Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays said Friday he might hit the 600-homer mark but doubted if he would be able to reach Babe Ruth's all-time record of 714.

Mays, who will be 37 on May 6, already has 564 homers, needing 150 to equal Ruth's mark. However, he could move over 600 this season if he snaps back from his slump of last season.

Troubled by pulled muscles and the flu, Mays dipped to 263 in 1967 when he hit 22 homers.

Mays was in New York to accept a $12,000 Italian sports car as a gift of the diversified company which owns the baseball bat company (Adirondack) with which he is associated.

"I expect to play as long as I can do my best," he said, "as long as I am not embarrassing myself or the ball club. I was sick last year but I don't want to make excuses. Just say I had a bad year."

"I should have a better one this year. I feel I should have all my strength back by the time I go to spring training."

Once again Mays refused to show any interest in a managerial career after his playing days are over. "It's very hard work and not secure," said Mays. "I'd love to stay in baseball because I think I can do a lot for kids, but I don't even want to discuss it yet."

Mays' contract has run out, but he anticipates no problems in reaching terms with owner Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants. He has been getting a reported $125,000 a year.

"I'm not going to be any hold-out," said Mays.

Asked about his feelings on the proposed Negro boycott of the Olympic games, Mays first said "this is a baseball meeting, not Olympics." Later, he said he did not feel there should be a boycott.

Cardinals Give Lou Brock Salary Raise

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Leftfielder Lou Brock became the first Cardinal to sign his 1968 contract Friday. And in doing so he nearly doubled his salary of last year.

The new salary of the speedy leadoff hitter is reported to be about $70,000. Although contract figures were not announced, a club official said Brock's salary last year was about $35,000.

The 28-year-old Brock, who has helped the Cardinals win two pennants since coming to the club in 1964, was described by Stan Musial as the most exciting player in baseball.

Musial signed Brock after stepping down as general manager. New general manager Bing Devine said: "Lou has achieved star status, and at his age, with his overall potential, should continue to excel and progress for years to come."

Brock, who said he was pleased with the new contract, also said he was not setting any goals for himself for the new season.

"Everytime I set goals I don't make them," said Brock. "Now he tells us," quipped Musial.

Last season was Brock's best. He started in the All-Star Game at Anaheim, Calif.; he topped the league in stolen bases with 52; led left fielders in putouts, and was second in the league in both total bases and hits with 325 and 206. He batted .299.

But his finest performance came in the World Series where he collected 12 hits in 29 trips for a .414 average. He scored eight runs and drove in three. And, he set a series record by stealing seven bases.

Brumel May Return to High Jump

MOSCOW (AP) — Valery Brumel, Russia's world record holder in the high jump, predicted Friday it would take a leap of seven feet, three inches to 7-4 to win the Olympic gold medal in Mexico City this year. He won at Tokyo in 1964 with 7-1 1/2.

"I hope to return to high jumping for I am only 25," the handsome, six-foot athlete told the Soviet youth paper Komsomolskaya Pravda.

Brumel, who set the world mark of 7-5 3/4 in 1963, saw his career abruptly halted in the autumn of 1965 when he fell from a motorcycle and suffered a broken right leg.

Soviet doctors managed to grow the broken bones together but osteomyelitis developed and now poses an obstacle to the high jumper's full recovery.

If it had not been for the injury, Brumel said, he believes he might have moved the world record up to 7-6 or 7-8.

He added that he felt there was no immediate threat to his record. He listed the best high jumpers as the 23-year-old Valery Skvortsov of the Soviet Union and the U.S. silver and bronze medal winners in the 1964 Olympics, John Thomas and John Rambo.

Kenyon's Rinka Leads Small School Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — John Rinka, Kenyon's 5-foot-9 guard, might not be able to jump as high as most college basketball players, but he certainly made a giant leap in the small college scoring race. National Collegiate Sports Services statistics showed Friday.

Scoring 85 points in two games last week, Rinka zoomed from 13th to first with a 34.7-point average. He replaced Wayne Chamberlain of Babson, who scored 35 points in two games and plummeted from 37 points a game to 27.3.

While Rinka was scoring a lot of points, 7-1 Jim Gilbert of Adams State was hitting a lot of his shots and took over the lead as the most accurate field goal shooter. Gilbert has connected on 56 of 80 tries or 70 per cent.

Curt Strathman of Westmar retained his lead in free throw accuracy with 96.9 per cent while Roy Manning of Lane bounced to the top of the rebounding pack, averaging 24.3 rebounds a game.

Norfolk State has averaged the most points, 116.4, and Ashland, Ohio, has allowed the fewest, 37.8.

Rich Allen Hand Better

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The torn right arm of Philadelphia Phillies slugger Rich Allen continues to improve slowly, a Temple University orthopedic surgeon said after an examination Thursday.

The doctor, who declined to be identified, said tests on Allen's hand—injured last August while he was pushing a car—"showed continued progress in the return of sensation. . . There is a slight indication of return of muscle functioning regarding small muscles that spread the fingers."

He added that this was "only the beginning of return and the full extent of recovery cannot be determined at this time."

Atlanta Braves Ink Shortstop, Pitcher

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves announced today they have signed Al Venz, shortstop from Charles City, Iowa. The 20-year-old infielder will report to spring training with the club's Richmond farm team in the International League.

The Braves also announced they have signed Wilfred Torres, 18-year-old pitcher from Sarture, P.R., to a contract with West Palm Beach in the Class A Florida State League.

Pats' Shonta OK

BOSTON (AP) — Defensive back Chuck Shonta, an eight-year American Football League veteran with the Boston Patriots, was given a medical okay Friday to continue playing.

Shonta, who has suffered head injuries in each of the last three seasons, was pronounced physically fit by a Boston specialist, Dr. Joseph A. Dillard.

Post Office Stamp Machine To be Changed

Nearly 10,000 postage vending machines, including the one at the Warren Post Office, will be converted over the next three months to reflect the new postal rates which go into effect Sunday.

Postmaster Frank Fago said the situation appears to be much more complex than anticipated. The job of converting the thousands of vending machines found in post office lobbies from coast to coast is so massive it will take several months to complete.

Fago noted that vending machines located in lobbies of post offices are not to be confused with commercial stamp vending machines found in many stores. Such commercial machines provide a margin for profit and are not controlled by the Post Office Department. Post office vending machines can be a big convenience to postal patrons, the postmaster said, permitting them to ignore waiting lines at stamp sales windows or buy stamps to mail letters after windows have closed.

Ask ConCon to Curb Hikes in Taxes, Legislators' Salaries

HARRISBURG (AP) — Plans to curb tax boosts and salary increases for state officials were submitted to the Constitutional Convention Friday, the last day proposals could be introduced from the floor.

The fiscal proposals were among 50 introduced Friday, bringing the total submitted since the convention opened last Dec. 1 to 171.

However, Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, convention president, said at least 20 proposals that could not be processed by the Legislative Reference Bureau before the deadline would be introduced Monday.

Broderick also ruled that two proposals introduced earlier, including one that would authorize state aid for nonpublic schools, were outside the convention's limited jurisdiction.

The proposal, submitted by Philadelphia delegate German Quiles, called for an amendment authorizing the legislature to "levy taxes and make appropriations for the maintenance and support of nonpublic schools to serve the educational needs of the commonwealth."

In rejecting the proposal, Broderick said Quiles may appeal the ruling Monday if he wishes.

Quiles was absent Friday, and it could not be learned immediately if he planned to stage a floor fight over the controversial issue.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Pennsylvania Catholic Conference said in response to a query that the organization has not sought to have the issue brought before the convention.

William B. Ball of Harrisburg, chief counsel for the conference, said he did not believe a constitutional amendment would be needed to provide state aid for nonpublic schools.

"We are satisfied that important legislation already in the General Assembly providing for state purchase of secular education services in the nonpublic schools is completely within the state Constitution and amendments are not required by the convention," Ball said.

Ball added that the conference which claims to be an official spokesman for the state's eight Roman Catholic dioceses, does not desire to see the convention's work "prejudiced by virtue of a prolonged debate on this question."

The two fiscal proposals offered Friday obviously were prompted by recent legislative developments: an increase in the sales tax to 6 per cent and passage of a controversial pension bill.

Charles A. Murray Jr., a Philadelphia delegate, proposed that any tax bills that would increase revenues 10 per cent or more be put before the voters.

"My proposal would give the people the right to veto or approve large tax increases," Murray said. "It is my strong feeling that the people don't want to be paying for such items as governors' mansions, unrealistic pension plans and padded government payroll."

A proposal introduced by delegate Gerald E. Ruth of York would bar salary or pension increases of more than 10 per cent above the existing compensation for state officials.

"We, as delegates, would be derelict in our sworn duty in not recognizing the need for a constitutional limitation on compensation of state officers, who would otherwise have unlimited power to over-extend the finances of the state," Ruth said.

The state Milk Control Commission was the obvious target of a proposal submitted by Pittsburgh delegate Henry P. Otto, a former House member, to limit the legislature's power to regulate consumer prices to situations where the governor declares an emergency exists.

Others proposals introduced — Abolish the state's capital stock tax levied on corporations.

— Add an additional seat to the 50-seat Senate.

— Abolish the fee system as a means of compensating any elected or appointed official.

— Give preferred status to appropriation bills for any college or university.

— Empower the legislature to set a mandatory retirement age for judges and justices of the peace.

College President's Forced Resignation Probed in House

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Democrats tried unsuccessfully Friday to learn the exact reason for the forced resignation of Dr. Robert A. Christie as president of Millersville State College.

Rep. Harvey L. Nitrauer, R-Lebanon, a member of the college's board trustees, side-stepped numerous questions put to him by two lawmakers from the minority side.

There were fundamental differences between the board of trustees and the president on educational policies," Nitrauer said. "That's the sum and substance of the matter."

Reps. James J. A. Gallagher, ranking Democrat on the higher Education Committee, and Herbert Fineman, minority floor leader, repeatedly urged Nitrauer to be more specific, but he declined.

The 20 minute interrogation came shortly before the House joined the Senate in a two month recess to allow the Constitutional Convention to continue using the House chamber without interruption. The General Assembly reconvenes on March 4.

Nitrauer voted with the majority Thursday as the Millersville board accepted Christie's resignation, 7 to 1. The Republican lawmaker admitted that the board has asked Christie to step down, but denied Democratic charges that politics was involved.

Gallagher asked if Christie's policies at the college were considered too liberal or if he had failed to live up to the professional standards of the institutions.

"You're trying to put words in my mouth," Nitrauer protested. "I'm only trying to get words out of it," Gallagher shot back in reply.

It was at this point that Fineman, one of the ablest debaters on the Democratic side, took over and continued the interrogation but without much success.

House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson intervened and suggested that Nitrauer refuse to answer further questions from the minority side.

"This is not a court room," Donaldson said. "I appreciate the minority leader's abilities as a prosecutor, but if I were the gentleman from Lebanon, I would not answer any more questions."

Speaker Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, also noted that little was being accomplished, and the Democrats soon gave up on Nitrauer. A spokesman for the minority told newsmen, however, consideration would be given to proposing an investigation of the matter.

Christie, 44, said his resignation, effective Aug. 31, was because of policy differences with the board. He has served in the post for more than two years.

The verbal exchange marked the second time in three days that House Democrats had made an issue of Christie's resignation. On Wednesday, Rep. Dardanel, D-Allegheny, charged that the action had political overtones.

The Senate unanimously passed a bill to continue through 1969 a 2 per cent tax on harness racing at Liberty Bell Park with the yield earmarked for Philadelphia public schools. Last year, the city's schools netted $1.69 million from the tax.

The House, which earlier had approved extension of the tax for an indefinite period, went along with Senate amendment to a two year limit. The measure was sent to Gov. Shafer for his signature.

The Senate also adopted a resolution establishing a five member investigating committee to determine the cause of increasing highway death tolls. Sens. Clarence F. Manbeck, R-Lebanon, was named chairman.

Many Newspapers Urge Halt To Bombing of North Vietnam

NEW YORK (AP) — Many American newspapers urged the Johnson administration Friday to halt the bombing of North Vietnam as a test of the latest Hanoi announcement on the prospect of peace talks. Others suggested that Washington should adopt a wait-and-see attitude.

The papers expressed their views concerning a statement by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh of North Vietnam that his country "will hold talks" if the United States stops bombing and other hostile acts against the North.

"In our view," said the New York Times, "the time clearly has come for President Johnson to make a move to open talks. A halt in the bombing is the way to begin."

The Boston Globe took the view that on the face of it the Hanoi statement "is only the latest in a long list of peace feelers that have come to nought, so it is hard to be optimistic," but added:

"Such an attitude would be more warranted if Hanoi's sincerity were tested immediately by stopping the bombing of North Vietnam unconditionally."

The New York Post declared that "if the Communists advanced the proposal as a propaganda device—confident that it would evoke no warm response in Washington—their gamble has produced large initial dividends. In the eyes of the world, Dean Rusk once again appears to have misplaced his hearing aid."

The Chicago Sun Times, in its first front page editorial since 1952, urged its readers to bombard the White House with letters and telegrams urging a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam as a means of persuading Ho Chi Minh to negotiate.

"President Johnson has said the United States will go more than half way to find an honorable peace," the newspaper said. "Action would give credence to our word."

The Nashville Tennessean commented: "Hanoi is up to something, and it isn't clear whether it is softening its hard line position of old or merely wants to put a little psychological pressure on Washington."

"So many previous bubbles have burst, the best attitude is the one prescribed by the Lao-tians: to wait and see."

The Cleveland Press reacted similarly, saying:

"We expect to get from (Secretary of State Dean Rusk) in time an honest report (on the significance of the Hanoi statement) and not the kind of 'it's nothing serious' brush-off President Thieu in Saigon gave instantly."

"But let's not get our hopes up too high."

Other editorial comment: The Chicago American—"The American people's hunger for peace in Vietnam has grown so keen that a sniff of it sets off almost visceral cravings; and if the cravings are once more disappointed the cravings will be proportionately strong."

The Washington Evening Star—"If there is a reasonable prospect of negotiations in good faith, we can afford to risk a halt in the bombing of the North—and see what happens."

The Washington Post—"If the leaders of North Vietnam are really serious about negotiations they ought to be willing to discuss in advance, through intermediaries if need be, what sort of settlement they would envisage, or at least what questions they would consider 'relevant,' and so should we."

The Atlanta Journal—"We would like to see the bombing halted, now; the negotiations proceed, now; and if possible, the disengagement begin, now. If the administration again backs away from negotiations it should at least stop saying we are ready to negotiate any place, any time."

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle—"Just how reasonable and humanitarian would be the victors, as their political emissaries went through the farce of 'peace talks'? The record indicates that they would attempt, even as their representatives used the negotiating table as a propaganda forum, to launch an orgy of massacre and looting exceeding anything free Vietnam has yet seen."

The Roanoke (Va.) Times—"The President is fully justified in seeking further clarification of Foreign Minister Trinh's statement...but direct U.S.-Hanoi negotiations or Saigon-NFL talks are surely the necessary first step to obtaining an eventual truce."

The Milwaukee Journal—"Surely in the interests of making the most of any possibility for peace negotiations, a bombing halt is called for. More certainly, this is no time to escalate bombing."

Japanese Steel Production Up

TOKYO (AP)—Steel producers estimated Friday steel production in Japan for fiscal 1967 will reach 63.4 million tons, a 22 per cent increase over the previous fiscal year.

The output—a hike over original estimates—followed a decision by steel producers to increase the output for the final quarter of the fiscal year from 15.9 million tons to 16 million tons.

Japan's fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31.

Crisis in Christianity

CHRISTIANITY AND CRISIS is a left-leaning highbrow journal of opinion of which the principal figure over the years has been Reinhold Niebuhr, who has now yielded to the renowned Dr. John C. Bennett of the Union Theological Seminary of Columbia University. A recent issue of C & C makes two interesting observations concerning Ronald Reagan, Drew Pearson, Homosexuality, American politics, and morality.

The first takes note of the incessant teasing of Ronald Reagan following Drew Pearson's exposure of the alleged homosexuality of a Reagan assistant. You will recall that when asked whether it were true, Governor Reagan announced flatly that it wasn't. There were those at that time (myself among them) who thought this precisely the right answer to give, because a public official ought not to find himself in a position of revealing the reasons for the dismissal of an employee provided that employee has not acted unlawfully. But others worked themselves up into a considerable moral lather over Governor Reagan's alleged dissimulation, and somehow, out of the whole mess, Drew Pearson emerged, as usual, unscathed. He had been proven right, had he not?

CHRISTIANITY AND CRISIS confesses itself delighted at the embarrassment of Ronald Reagan. "... But our partisan politics must not hide a more fundamental moral implication of this recent political smear job. We must give the Pearsons of this land no applause or comfort for these so-called 'revelations' about a politician's fitness for high office. The columnist has used one of the most despicable devices known to political warfare—playing upon the prejudices and ignorance of the people to turn them against his opponent. It is no more acceptable when Drew Pearson attacks a conservative politician than when the late Senator Joseph McCarthy" etc. etc. "One of the things that makes libertarian mouthings so incredulous to people is that when McCarthy-like tactics are used by conservatives it is immoral, but when liberals use it against conservatives it becomes 'political honesty.' Some consistency in indignation helps make principles a bit more believable even to political foes."

So far so good. A true liberal, by the definition of Sir Arnold Lunn, is the man who defends the rights of conservatives. A true anything, according to my definition, is the man who despises the practices of Drew Pearson.

But then CHRISTIANITY AND CRISIS goes on to deplore the continuing bias against homosexuals in government. "Hasn't the time come in American life," the editorial asks, "when we should seriously re-examine our attitude and ethical stance on this problem, since this makes many decent people easy prey for blackmail and intimidation? . . . When he faced the press, Mr. Reagan angrily denied there had been any incidents or problems. He would have better served his own interests and the moral atmosphere of the nation if he had done something more than bluster and bleat. It is to be hoped that the church can muster the integrity and the courage to challenge the public climate that turns sexual deviation into criminality and victimization."

The editorial cites a figure of the National Institute of Mental Health which asserts that there are 2.5 million persons in America "for whom homosexuality is a way of life." The argument is that in the light of the prevalence of homosexuality, the bias should be removed. And, the bias having been removed, the blackmail potential diminishes, and so therefore does the public hazard in giving employment to homosexuals.

The argument is of course too schematic. And anyway, it is not merely on account of the susceptibility to blackmail that homosexuals are kept out of critical government positions. It is because homosexuality is an unnatural condition. That, in any case, is the governing postulate, which has not been successfully undermined, not even by such skillful advocates of bisexuality as Paul Goodman and Gore Vidal. If the condition is unnatural, then the presumption is against the emotional balance of the addict, a good reason for declining to situate him in the clutch of the republic.

And then too, the disappearance of sanctions against homosexuality, which are embodied in the security laws prohibiting homosexuals from working in sensitive agencies, means the weakening of those normative sexual sanctions which are the most efficacious agents of reform within the homosexual community. The tendency of easygoing Christians to consider that anything that exists should be institutionalized, and then baptized, is the same tendency that accounts for the toleration, and even the approval, of Drew Pearson.

Harmonious Start

The new Warren County Board of Commissioners has apparently gotten off to a good start. Chairman Dr. David K. Rice has already stated that one of the goals is to run a business-like office in the court house and assigned Thomas J. Donnelly, the one Democrat, to make a thorough study at the Rouse Home in order to effect a more efficient and economic operation there.

In their first two meetings, the three commissioners, including veteran Blain M. Mead, have been able to quietly reach agreement on the business to come before them and plan, in the future, to post an agenda prior to their regular Monday and Thursday morning regular sessions, the same as borough council does monthly.

It also appears that in most instances the commissioners plan to don their three hats within the confines of the court house, with business pertaining of the Hoffman Children's Home and the Rouse

Home to be handled in the court house office rather than meeting at the institutions in question as been the practice in the past.

As predicted the transition when newly elected officials took office, was orderly with no changes in present personnel contemplated.

If the current atmosphere prevails—and we hope it does—Warren County may benefit during the next four years.

Will Be Missed

The quiet-like, polite, efficient and dedicated executive secretary of the Warren County Chapter, American Cancer Society, is going to leave her post after 14 years of service.

She is Miss Mina Reider.

Miss Reider, who is the only executive secretary to work for the local Cancer Society, will vacate her office at the Market street center effective January 30. Her warm smile and friendly greeting will be missed.

ART BUCHWALD

Eyeball to Eyeball

WASHINGTON — The most valuable television football-watcher's award was presented last week to Harry Dalinsky of Georgetown at a dinner given at Duke Zeibert's restaurant in Washington. Dalinsky, who could not attend because he was watching the Orange Bowl game at the time, was represented by his wife, Marion, who said in her acceptance speech that Harry considered it a great honor to be voted the trophy which consisted of a silver tray which was a replica of a TV dinner.

Buchwald

Marion, who addressed the 1,200 distinguished guests—all wives of men who also were unable to attend the dinner because they, too, were watching the Orange Bowl game—said, "This is probably one of the great moments of Harry's life, and he told me during a commercial, just before I was leaving for the dinner, that he wanted all of you to know that if he could have possibly got out of his chair, he would have been here tonight."

"Harry wanted to say that this trophy belongs not only to him but to all the people who made it possible—Robert Sarnof of NBC, William Paley of CBS, Leonard Goldenson of ABC and the announcers, the cameramen, the technicians, down to the lowliest soundmen who gave so much of their time and effort to make him look good."

In presenting the award Mrs. Robert Yoakum, standing in for her husband who was supposed to be master of ceremonies, said that Dalinsky had not missed one football game that was televised in 1967 including all the preseason contests as well as reruns of games from former years.

His eyeballs had covered more yardage and he has passed up more meals and caught more hell from his family than any football-watcher of the year.

Mrs. Yoakum said that Dalinsky had received 34,578 votes. The runner-up for the trophy was Gordon Manning of New Canaan, Conn., who had been the league's leading watcher until late into November, when unfortunately his house burned down. By the time the fire was out, Manning was only able to catch the last half of the New York Giants-Minnesota Vikings game, and he never was able to regain his stride.

The highlights of the evening were films of Dalinsky watching some of the great football plays of the year. One was of Dalinsky sitting on the edge of his chair as Chicago's Gale Sayers ran a 100-yard kick return. Another showed Dalinsky drinking a beer as the Los Angeles Rams' Fearsome Foursome smeared Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, and a third historical shot showed Dalinsky on his feet changing channels to watch the New York Jets' Joe Namath pass for a 60-yard touchdown play.

One film, shot by director Andy Warhol, showed Dalinsky sitting staring at his set for three hours without moving a muscle. It is considered one of the greatest underground films ever made.

Mrs. Tony Bradley, whose husband was chairman of the awards committee, wound up the evening by saying, "The most valuable television football-watcher's award is given to a person, not only because of his viewing ability in the living room, but because he exemplifies the spirit and traditions of the American husband who eyeball-to-eyeball has devoted his life to watching football on TV."

"It is the Harry Dalinskys of this world that have made TV football viewing what it is today, and an inspiration to the youth of the country, who someday will be watching football themselves."

After the dinner, reporters found Mrs. Dalinsky sitting at a table all alone. When asked what she was doing there, she replied, "Harry told me not to come home until the Orange Bowl game was over."

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have had enough of you. I am a 17-year-old boy who thinks your advice to the girl whose steady boyfriend has "wandering hands" is all wet.

Instead of telling the girl to give the eight-handed idiot "a clomp in the chops" or however it is you worded it, why don't you put the blame where it belongs — on the girl?

No guy in his right mind ever starts to paw a perfect lady. The chick who suddenly finds a guy's hands all over her has asked for it in one way or another.

Sometimes it's not in words, it's the way a girl gets herself together. The miniskirts are a pretty good eyeful when a girl is standing up. When she is sitting down, it's like she is wearing a bikini. No normal guy can look at all that flesh and not get ideas.

Transparent blouses and sweaters, and jeans that fit like sausage casings are worn to get guys excited, and when a normal guy gets excited, he wants to do more than just look.

So please, Ann Landers, since you are supposed to give advice, give it to the girls. They are the ones who need it — TIRED OF BEING TURNED ON

DEAR TIRED: There's a great deal of truth in what you say and I'm glad you took the time to say it. The moral of the story is simply this, girls: Don't let your clothes issue any invitations you don't mean to fulfill. When you turn a guy on, he can be awfully hard to turn off.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a school teacher who feels parents in this country need a better understanding of where we fit into the lives of their children. Will you please help by printing this letter?

Study Group Taking Part in Mothers' March

Mrs. Donald Artico, Star Route, Irvine, will entertain for the first meeting of the new year for the Pre-School Child Study Group. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 8:30 p. m.; the program will be announced later.

Mrs. Leonard Berenfield is committee chairman for the evening, assisted by Mrs. David Brandhorst and Mrs. Clair Tremblay.

It has been announced that material will be distributed for the annual Mothers' March of Dimes for Polio and Birth Defects. The door to door campaign will take place on Tuesday evening, January 30 instead of Monday evening as in the past.

Area residents are asked to turn on their porch lights and give generously. Significant advances have been made in research made possible by the funds raised in the national March of Dimes. January has been officially designated by Warren's mayor, Donald E. Conaway, as the "March of Dimes Month".

The March of Dimes campaign is sponsored locally by the Zonta Club.

unusually suspicious of a child, it is because that child has behaved in a way that has caused the teacher to mistrust him.

3. Teachers do not "give" grades. They only record the quality of the work the student has produced.

4. Children with good manners and a record for achievement will be given preferential consideration and special honors and privileges.

5. Teachers grieve almost as much as parents when a student doesn't make the grade. They feel that they have failed the student and it makes them sad because they love all children and want them to succeed. —SOMEONE WHO CARES IN AUSTIN

DEAR SOMEONE: The teachers you describe are the GOOD teachers. Although there are a great many more good teachers than poor ones, you must agree that not every teacher measures up to your lofty standards.

PREPARE FOR MUSIC SEMINAR

Student Musicians Prepare for Critique in Music Seminar

Five young piano students have been chosen by the Philomel Club to perform for Professor Detlef Kraus, renowned teacher and concert artist who will visit Warren on Wednesday, January 10.

Professor Kraus will appear before a student assembly on Wednesday morning in Warren High School auditorium. As part of this program he will listen and comment on the playing of these students, Julie Wendell, Jana Roop, Cathy Baker and Elisa and Laurie Tranter. The girls are students of Rachel Eaton and Mimi Levinson.

Wednesday evening Mr. Kraus will give a piano concert in Beatty Auditorium at 8 p.m. presented by the Philomel for the benefit of their school scholarship fund. Tickets are available from members or at Ble-kards Music Store.

After making his debut in his native city of Hamburg at 16 in 1936, Kraus spent the next several years in Berlin attending the famous master courses of the renowned pianist-teacher Wilhelm Kempff. A disrupted Europe curtailed plans for a professional career until two decades ago, but since then Kraus has played nearly 2,500 concerts taking him to over 35 countries on five continents.

Like the late Walter Gieseking, to whom several critics have compared Kraus, the artist has involved himself mostly in performing his native Teutonic music. And among his noteworthy accomplishments are the presentation of the complete piano sonatas of Beethoven and the complete piano works of Brahms as cycles.

Together with his extensive concert activities, for the past ten years Kraus has been professor of Master Classes for Piano at the Folkwang Hochschule of Essen, Germany. He records for Philips and Musi-caphon.

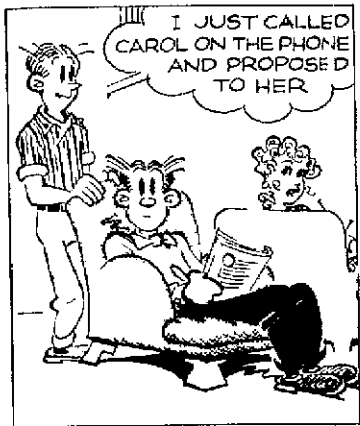

Grange News

Chandler's Valley Grange will meet tonight at 8 p.m. with Theron Johnson as a special guest. Mr. Johnson, whom many people of the Chandler's Valley area know, will show travel slides which he has taken around the country. The public is invited to hear Mr. Johnson. Members are reminded that this meeting will be a towel shower for the kitchen and also the last time to bring glasses for New Eyes for the Needy. The dues-paying dinner will be January 20.

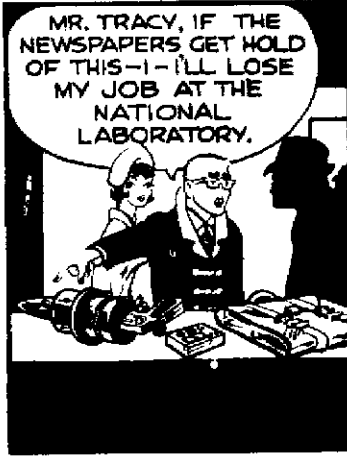

Instead of the last regular meeting, the Grange held a Christmas party. Santa Claus arrived with gifts for all and the Home Economic committee served lunch.

Fashion's Spring Forecast

NEW YORK (AP) — Hypnotism used to be the way people faded back into the past. Now women will step to their wardrobes this spring to get away from it all.

Perhaps there should have been a psychologist around at the fashion press previews presented by the New York couture group Thursday to explain why women, or their designers, want to be walking museums.

Is this a reaction to the coolly efficient, no-nonsense mechanical space age of today?

At any rate, back, back, back in time the styles go, back to the 1930s, past the Roaring Twenties to the cinch waisted Gibson Girl, and back even farther to Scarlet O'Hara of the Civil War days.

Styles even cross the ocean and proceed back farther to the Elizabethan days, and more to the shining hour of Camelot. Fortunately they do not go back as far as Adam and Eve, although some of the semifig leaf swim suits of Rudi Gernreich — to be seen next week — seem to.

To help provide instant transition from the blunt-edged no-curl Sassoon Girl to tousle-headed Kewpie dolls of the '30s or even the cork screw curled girl of the very Old South, David and David introduced wigs and braids and wood shaving hair to cover up with, tuck in, or pin under.

Of the three design houses, Townley, Ben Reig, and B. H. Wragge, only Reig stuck to the customarily classic suit which has its inception in the past but only the past few years.

With Townley were shades of Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm as girls wore knee-length gingham with wide ruffles at the hem. The Gibson Girl was back too, in frothy white shirt and voluminous black floor length skirt.

Elizabethan ruffs stand high around necks, graciously hiding too many chins. White lace drips from the sleeves of velvet Lord Fauntleroy jackets. Tunics fall short and open at the sides over bright colored tights, like court pages.

There are pages from history in all the collections.

FOR TOWN AND COUNTRY

Though fashions mentioned in the article which follows, are for spring, there remains the whole of winter which we must experience. In the above picture is shown an Alpaca lined coat of imported ribbed velvet, which promises to provide a cozy warm and charming way to lead a busy town and country life as the winds blow and whistle and the snow on quieter days softly falls.

Power Plant Goes Up at Kinzua Dam

SUPERSTRUCTURE

The power house superstructure for the Seneca Power Plant at Kinzua Dam is taking shape on the downstream side of the dam. The project, to cost approximately $40 million began in May of 1966 and is being constructed for Cleveland

Electric Illuminating Co. and Pennsylvania Electric Co., by Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., and is scheduled to be operational by the summer of 1969.

HARNESS

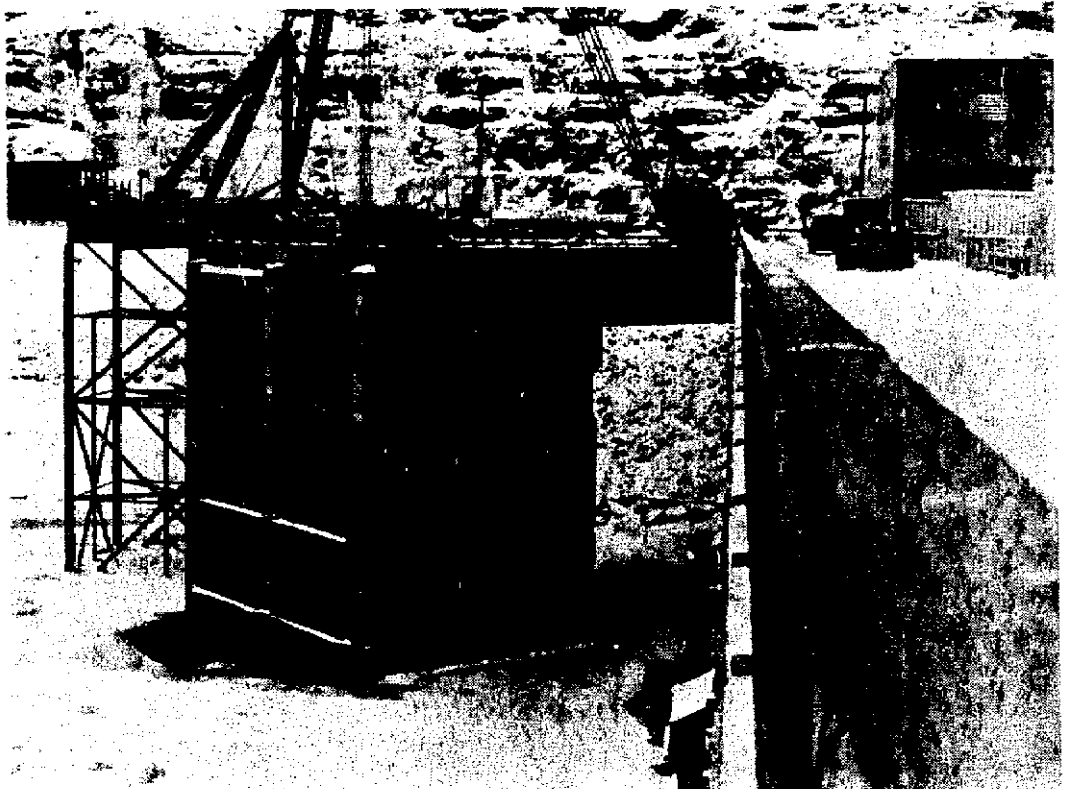

The power of this cascade will be harnessed in less than 18 months to generate 380,000 kilowatts, sufficient to meet the power needs of some 280,000 homes and allow the Cleveland Illuminating Co. and Penelec to meet peak demands on their systems at a lower capital investment.

Photos By Gordie Mahan

SHAFTS JOIN

The horizontal and vertical shafts of Seneca Power Plant join at this elbow 500 feet below the half-mile diameter upper reservoir. The contractor, Hunkin-Conkey, who built Kinzua Dam, is constructing forms around which concrete will be poured to connect the two shafts. The vertical shaft was concreted this past summer.

90 PER CENT COMPLETE

The lower intake structure of the Seneca Power Plant is considered about 90 per cent complete. Water from Allegheny Reservoir will travel from this structure to the upper reservoir at the top of an adjacent hill. Depending on reservoir requirements, water will possibly return to the reservoir through the same structure. The alternative is to discharge it into the Allegheny River below the dam.

"Let us know the Lord, let us strive to know the Lord."
— Osee 6:3

In this time of new beginnings, of looking back at the past, of looking forward to a New Year; in this time of long-forgotten and not-fulfilled resolutions when we so quickly state "I will do better this year"; in this time of looking forward to the year to come within which we hope to write a better and finer chapter of history, it might be well if we go back, way back, to the very beginning. As we begin a New Year, let us include God in our history. So many times He has been left out — and nearly always, He has been left out when we need Him the most. Let us look to God, and in this looking, come to know Him more, so that we might love Him as He should be loved.

To "our father Abraham", God revealed Himself as one who calls and acts, who holds out an unfailing promise and enters into personal encounter with the man of His choosing. Fresh from his victory over four kings and rich with the blessing of the priest-king of Salem, Abraham hears the voice of God in a vision: "Fear not, Abram, I am your shield". Great promises were made to him along with many dark warnings. His people would possess a fertile land but they must suffer intensely. This contrast of bright day and dark night frightened Abraham, and he asked God for assurance. God told him to prepare a sacrifice. Obediently Abraham cut the beasts in two, laid them on the ground and waited all day, even to the lowering darkness of night, for God to give answer. Then "when it was dark, a smoking oven and a fiery torch passed between the pieces." God would always be like this, bringing light into darkness, ever at hand even when human hopes lie shattered in pieces.

Watching over Abraham as the apple of His eye, God confided with him in all His councils. When it came time to destroy a city honeycombed with corruption, God asks Himself: "How can I keep from Abraham what I am about to do?" Abraham ham was not one to miss these marks of loving care. As a friend with a friend he begins to bargain with God to stay His mighty hand for the sake of the fifty just men; forty; thirty; twenty; ten. The living knowledge of a man confronts the mercy and loyal love of God — and prevails. God answers with the only word He could speak: "I will not destroy it for the sake of the ten."

On the trembling mountain of Sinai, amid thunder and fire, He makes a covenant with the sons of Abraham, having but newly delivered them from the cruel tyranny of Egypt. Here He encounters man in an altogether new way to create an altogether new thing, a people of His own, sealed with His very name. Let Moses their leader plead for favor or offer excuse: God is always at hand to prove His mercy and loyal love.

Using the vivid imagery of a mother bird teaching her young to fly, bearing them upon her wings, dropping and catching them until they have mastered the wind and can fly unattended, God tells Moses: "You have seen for yourselves how I bore you on eagle wings and brought you here to myself." His very name was proof and sign: Yahweh — He who is always there. This name reveals Him as the God who is always at hand to save His people from every peril and to bless them with every favor. A pillar of fire to lead them by night and a cloud by day; before them as guide, behind them as protection.

This is the God whom Moses knows in intimate encounter, to whom he speaks with bold daring and in whatever words he pleases, so certain is he of God's mercy and rock-like fidelity to His love. It is not in vision or in dream that the two encounter one another; of this God reminds Aaron and Miriam when their jealousy of Moses was fired by a dispute with his wife Sepphora. "Face to face I speak to him," God affirms, "plainly and not in riddles. The presence of the Lord he beholds." In punishment God struck Miriam with leprosy. Yet even in this moment of wrath Moses stood up to God unabashed and pleaded in words which echoed God's own tender mercy, "Please, not this! Pray, heal her!" How he knew God! How sure he was that Yahweh was always at hand, a God of mercy and loyal love.

The Prophet Osee witnesses best of all to the unfailing mercy of God's saving love. Time and again his wife Gomer, daughter of Debelaim, was unfaithful to him. Yet each time, as a symbol of the mercy of God to Israel, he would welcome back the unfaithful wife with a forgiving love. Such mercy was not only prompted by, but also imaged the very mercy of God. The love of Osee for Gomer provided the text for God's own commentary of His boundless love for Israel. "How could I treat you as Adama or make you like Seboim? My heart is overwhelmed, my pity is stirred. I will not give vent to my blazing anger . . . for I am God and not man, the Holy One present among you."

It is Osee, too, who makes crystal clear that true knowledge of God involves a response on the part of the whole man. Man is to answer the mercy and loyal love of God with fidelity and mercy; when this is missing there is no knowledge of God. In Osee the peaceful future of the new Israel will be an age of mutual love and of true knowledge. God promises, "I will espouse you to me in love and in mercy; I will espouse you in fidelity, and you shall know the Lord."

The spirit of Osee lives again in the soul of Jeremiah, and the sorrow of his prophecy echoes in Jeremiah's artless book of "sighs and sobs." For Jeremiah, too, the days of the new covenant will bring to fulfillment a fair vision of perfect union and intimate knowledge, for God pledges, "I will be their God, and they shall be my people. No longer will they have need to teach their friends and kinsmen how to know the Lord. All, from the least to the greatest, shall know me. . ."

And then at long last, the Word of God became flesh, and in Him "the goodness and kindness of God our Savior appeared" to all men. The mercy and loyal love of God now confronts us face to face! Every word He utters is dynamic with power; His every deed is all-revealing. When He cured a demoniac with mere command it seemed to the wondering people that He had spoken a whole sermon and they cried out, "What new doctrine is this? What is this word?" Truly in Him "the grace of God our Savior has appeared to all men, instructing us."

Saint John saw this better than any other. Looking back over the span of seventy years to his daily contacts with Jesus, he sums up his whole impression by naming Him simply "the Word." He saw the whole being of Christ as the supreme manifestation of God: "No one has at any time seen God. The only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has revealed him." In writing of the Master, he can think only of a living, loving Word: "I write of what was from the beginning, what we have heard, what we have seen with our eyes, what we have looked upon and our hands have handled: of the Word of Life."

For John and for every other Christian this means a challenge to living encounter: heart to heart communication. Our faith in the Word involves vital response to the mercy and loyal love of God. It means knowledge intertwined and enveloped in love. For Jesus is not any kind of a word, but a Word breathing love.

About 60 per cent of the concrete has been poured in the tunnel of the Seneca Power Plant at Kinzua Dam. The vertical shaft and the last 2,600 feet of the horizontal shaft are a concrete

SCIENCE SKETCH

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS dancing on a cloud, marines wading through a steamy swamp and an English detective walking through the London fog are all familiar sights in motion pictures and on television. The cloud, steam and fog effects are made possible by using carbon dioxide, says Cardox, Chicago. Fog, for example, is formed by blowing steam over dry ice.

Vacation From Paying Social Security is Over

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — For the affluent, this is the week of the payday double take, the annual January trauma. The vacation from paying the Social Security payroll tax is over.

The vacation won't resume for nine months, six months or three months—the time it takes an individual to earn $7,800, up from $6,600 last year. Meanwhile, someone earning $175 a week will get $7.70 less each week in take-home pay, someone earning $400 a week, $17.60 less.

For wage and salary earners in the upper brackets, the payroll tax is an inconvenience and annoyance. It may mean fewer cigars and martinis in the winter and early spring, or possibly one fewer trip to Nassau.

For wage and salary earners in the lower and middle income brackets, it may mean much more. For the less affluent, the payroll tax may equal or exceed what they pay in income taxes, especially in the case of large families.

Dr. Elizabeth Doran, senior research analyst for the Tax Foundation Inc., notes that even for a family of four—parents and two children—the payroll tax exceeded the income tax for anyone earning less than $5,027 a year at the 1967 rate. About 23 per cent of all four-person families fell into this category.

Overall, about 35 per cent of families with at least two children pay more Social Security tax than federal income tax. Not only does the payroll tax weigh heavily on the poor, acting to offset in large measure the progressive nature of the income tax, but it puts an unusually great burden on families with more than one income earner. Of necessity, this is often the condition of the poor.

Indeed, the payroll tax may be viewed as a kind of progressive income tax in reverse. Up to $7,800, the maximum coverage at present, employees pay the full 4.4 per cent rate on their incomes. Above this, the rate declines steadily. Thus, a family with a poverty-level paycheck of $60 a week pays $2.64 a week, the full 4.4 per cent, while a family with a $400 a week paycheck pays an average of $6.60, or slightly more than 1½ per cent.

The situation might be viewed as an interesting anomaly—the poor being taxed most heavily to pay for what has become increasingly a program to help the poor—except for an ominous aspect. Increases in the rates, wage base, and coverage of the payroll tax have made it the fastest growing source of revenue to the federal government.

From 20 per cent of total federal receipts five years ago, contributions for social insurance have jumped to 25 per cent today, surging ahead of corporate profits tax accruals as the second largest source of federal receipts on a national income accounts basis. Already, such contributions amount to well over half the level of receipts from personal tax and nontax sources. Further increases, already enacted—whether or not an income tax increase is passed—seem likely to continue the trend.

The regressive nature of the payroll tax means a dampening of consumption at the income levels where it might be expected to rise the most. Even more important, it works against the creation of new job opportunities at these levels.

The payroll tax requires employers to make contributions equal to those of their employees. At 1967 rates, a corporation employing 10 persons would have had to earn $13,000 or more before its corporate income tax exceeded its payroll tax, Dr. Doran notes. One employing 20 persons would have had to earn $26,154.

New businesses are most likely to add up payroll tax liabilities greater than income tax liabilities. So are those with a heavy mix of labor in relation to capital.

To the degree that such industries—apparel, shoes and textiles are examples—can substitute machinery for labor, the payroll tax is a strong inducement to do so. To the extent that they cannot, and that the other avenues of relief—principally raising prices or cutting wages—are closed, capital is induced to move into other industries.

The deficiencies of the payroll tax emphasize the difficulty of using the Social Security system to meet the needs of the indigent as well as other aged. The poor—on farms, in cities, in large families, in fatherless homes, in the households of the disabled and the aged—universally should be assured incomes sufficient to meet their basic needs. But the costs should be levied in relation to ability to pay. And whatever system is permitted to evolve should encourage, not discourage, the capable to pull themselves out of poverty.

Local Cub Scout Leaders To Hold Pow-Wow Feb. 17

A pow-wow for Cub Scout leaders of Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, February 17, at Grace Methodist Church in Warren, with Henry O. Walker as chairman for the event.

John Kloos, district scout executive, announces Archie Brittain is chairman of games section; Joseph A. Scalise chairman of ceremonies stunts and skits; and Weston Wilcox of pack administration section, for the powwow.

The Cub Scout pow-wow begins at 1 p. m. with registration and preliminary session, followed by instructional sectional meetings beginning at 1:30.

Purpose of the pow-wow, says Kloos, is to give all den mothers, cub-masters, assistant cub-masters and committee members training in all phases of Cub Scout skills.

In order to make it possible for all den mothers to attend this important pow-wow, a free baby-sitting service will be provided at the church during the meeting.

Stamps In The News

The latest set of stamps from Nationalist China is for the birds—local birds, that is. A series of six stamps featuring birds native to Taiwan appears in beautiful color, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency.

The $1 shows the Formosan Bartlett, $2 Swinhoe's Maroon Oriole, $2.50 Formosan Green Pigeon, $3 Formosan Blue Magpie, $5 Formosan Serpent Eagle, $8 Mikado Pheasants. The denominations are in Taiwan currency.

These stamps are available at your local stamp dealer.

Israel joins the many nations issuing stamps commemorating International Tourist Year with a new set of three. The stamps are issued in cooperation with the United Nations proclamation of 1967 naming the entire year as "International Tourist Year" and its slogan "Tourism — Passport to Peace."

The new Israeli stamps have denominations of 30, 40 and 80 agorot. Each bears the inscription "Welcome to Israel" in Hebrew, French and English respectively. They are printed in multicolor.

Angola has issued 10 new stamps honoring its military decorations. The 10 decorations are: Ribbon of the Three Orders, Military Order of Valor, Military Order of Avis, Military Order of Christ, Order of St. John de Espada, Order of the Empire, Order of Infante Dom Henrique, Order of Benemerencia, Order of Public Instruction, Order of Agricultural and Industrial Merit.

Bermuda will issue three commemorative stamps in 1968 and an entirely new definitive set in 1969, reports the British Crown Agents in London.

The first to be released will be a human rights set due about Feb. 1. The second commemorative issue will mark Bermuda's new constitution, scheduled for June. The third set will have an Olympic Games theme for issuance in October.

Bermuda's new definitive issue will probably have about 16 denominations but the designs have not as yet been chosen.

THAT OLD EXPRESSION "silly as a goose" does not apply to the Canadian goose. It will bypass man-occupied stands that would attract the smartest duck.

WOMEN are being attracted to what was until recently a predominantly male occupation—welding. National Cylinder Gas, Chicago, says women are becoming welders because they find the job more interesting than other factory work.

FIRST VOLUNTEERS FROM CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) Cambridge residents, fired with the abolitionist sentiments of William Lloyd Garrison, formed the first volunteer company to serve with Union forces.

On the other hand, the Harvard community thought little of the war and the practice of hiring military replacements was common

Few specials are getting high ratings in TOP VIEW voting this season, but "Bob Hope" has done well. From your last voting, "Tijuana Brass" even tops Hope (not much can be said for Bell Telephone's popularity see vote on Joseph Fuchs):

Tijuana Brass, 81.6, One of TV's Best.

Bob Hope, 78.9, very good.

Celebrity Baseball Game, 73.9, very good.

CBC Report: Vietnam Interview, 65.8, good.

ABC Report: Can You Hear Me?, 60.3, good.

CBS Report: Gauguin in Tahiti, 59.8, above average.

NBC Report: American Profile, 59.0, above average.

One Night Stands, 49.0, average.

Bell Telephone: Joseph Fuchs, 46.3, below average.

READERS SPEAK

Dear TOP VIEW: "Tijuana Brass" is by far the best of today's young musicians. Talented (rare find), they are the one band adults can enjoy. Herb Alpert is a treat — easy to watch — like a visit with a much-liked friend. — Mrs. Ben Chambers, Bolivar, Tenn.

Dear TOP VIEW: The "Joseph Fuchs" special was outstanding. If every music student could see what goes on at the top of this highly competitive field, they would be challenged to work harder. — Eileen Stewart, Jackson, Tenn.

Dear TOP VIEW: Some specials in the past few months have renewed our faith in TV! Keep putting on top specials like those rated and "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night." — Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dear TOP VIEW: How about some "conservative" specials. We'd like to hear the conservative views and ideas on politics and other world events. — Mrs. E. A. Simmons, Grove, Okla.

Dear TOP VIEW: Wait until after 9:30 P.M. for cigarette and beer advertising. It would help parents who are trying to set the right example for their children. — Mrs. L. A. Collins, Missoula, Mont.

"Let's talk
 dry cleaning"

By Howard Waterfield

The start of a New Year is always a time for brave new resolutions, for taking stock, for starting with a clean slate. So here's a thought from one who specializes in "clean slates."

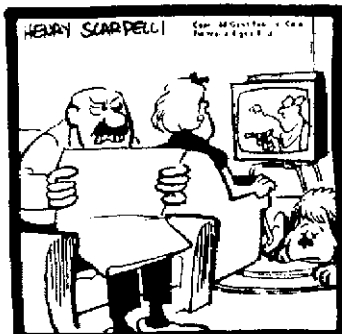

Sort through your "holiday best" clothing. Check each piece carefully for those accidental liquid stains or that small spot left by a stray bit of cranberry sauce. Odds are that milady's party dresses, and every man's best suits, were worn much more than usual during the holidays.

Don't just tuck them back into the closet on a hanger and forget them. One good rule to remember about clothes care is that spots and stains of whatever kind shouldn't be allowed to harden and become fixed in the fabric. That makes them even more difficult to get out.

So bring in your best finery now for our expert spot cleaning, for the thorough overall cleaning we give to every garment, and the expert pressing that will take out those wrinkles and creases to make your clothes look like new. It pays to take good care of your good clothes.

WEEK'S PREVIEW

Setting this coming week's television schedule was very much like getting ready for the annual seasonal changes in September. Many of the current revisions were due to the holiday weekend where, for instance, the entire NBC schedule from 10:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. on New Year's Day was thrown out to list the parades and bowl games. Getting the schedule back to normal was a tedious necessity.

However, holiday tampering with the listings was not the only cause since you will find that many programs have been moved to new time and day slots. And there are programs that have been dropped, and replacements added. Which adds up to more variety for the viewer.

ABC has a new Monday night series, "The Underseas World of Jacques Yves Cousteau," a new Tuesday night entry, "It Takes a Thief" (which moves the Invaders to 10 p. m.), a return of The Avengers on Wednesday evening, and a new Friday night variety show, "Operation: Entertainment."

NBC brings back "Animal Secrets," "Flipper" and "Wild Kingdom" on Sunday and puts "GE College Bowl" back to its early Sunday evening slot. A one-time special, "In Concert: With Herman's Hermits" comes Tuesday night, another special, "Great Explorations: The Trail of Stanley and Livingstone" will be seen Thursday night, and on Friday night the NBC special is "Projections '68: One Crisis Leads to Another."

CBS has a news special at 6 p. m. Sunday, and the second half of a year-end news program Tuesday night. In addition to these network changes, local stations also have made some schedule revisions of their own, notably Chs. 35 and 12.

The sport scene changes somewhat, with less football and more basketball. And the following week we'll have some golf shows.

THE MOVIE MOVE

Last week when NBC announced it would schedule a third movie night for next fall's new season, there was reaction in the ABC theater. ABC is said to be countering the attack on its Monday night schedule, which appears to be doing alright, by altering it to include a movie.

Also rumored is ABC's consideration of an earlier starting time for its Monday night flicker, 8:30 p. m. This would get the audience involved in the plot half an hour before the NBC movie comes on. And so the networks play their own little game of intrigue, focusing now on moves and counter-moves with movies.

RACE TO THE WHITE HOUSE

Political appearances by hopeful Presidential candidates will become commonplace in the months ahead as hopefuls seek more and wider exposure. ABC News begins its coverage with alternating weeks on Issues & Answers and Scope devoted to the campaign.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy appears this Sunday, Jan. 7, on Issues & Answers. Scope's first program will be Sunday, Jan. 13, with a program titled "The Democrats: Winter of Despair."

Speaking of politician's exposure, nobody can conjure it up like Sen. Everett Dirksen. The maker of laws, defender of marigolds, proponent of quality entertainment and "fifth most popular male vocalist in the country," will guide television viewers through the Capital in Washington, an edifice he has known well for 35 years, on Monday, Jan. 22, 10 p. m. on ABC.

PEOPLE & PROGRAMS

MAC, a one-hour color TV series, has been bought by ABC for next season. It deals with a San Francisco private investigator and his bizarre cases.

AND NOW is a projected half-hour variety show which would star Dick Clark as host.

THE JONATHAN WINTERS SHOW which replaced Dundee & the Culhane on CBS Wednesday night lineup may turn out better than expected. It already has doubled the CBS rating for that time slot. If it doesn't hold up, CBS will dump it along with Good Morning World, He and She, and Cimaroon Strip.

SPORTS NETWORK INC. will televise the following golf tournaments: Westchester Classic, Aug. 15-18; Los Angeles Open, Jan. 25-28; Doral Open, March 7-10; Citrus Open, March 14-17; Greensboro Open, April 4-7; New Orleans Open, May 9-12; Atlanta Open, May 30-June 2; Western Open, Aug. 1-4; Philadelphia Open, Aug. 22-25.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—For things to which you are naturally adapted, day has numerous advantages. In certain other matters, there will be obstacles, delays: Don't fret. Things will right themselves by next Tuesday.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Not all will work out as planned but in many cases you will find out later that this has been to your advantage. Do what you must as well as you can; gains will accrue.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Note Taurus; your outlook similar. Be careful not to give others wrong impressions and do avoid making hasty decisions. Confusion could result.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Planetary aspects mostly auspicious, but accuracy and forethought must spark all decisions, moves. Some excellent returns will reward serious endeavor.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Business and/or occupational interests will need more than usual attention, but give it to them and you will be highly pleased with results.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Get busy and buckle down where the odds are against you and problems loom. With the Virgoan's innate practicality and resourcefulness, you can handle all situations.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Neither expect nor demand too much and you will be surprised at your over-all returns. Avoid, however, a current tendency to go off on tangents, to put aside "musts" for unessentials.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—You may have to work hard to keep this day up to par, and to present yourself at your best. Pick up loose ends, retouch, finish all projects started. Be careful if handling the affairs of others.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—There will be no easy way around this day. Just one misstep could mean a real setback. On the other hand, a smart, rightly calculated move could save time, raise your prestige. Pause to think.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Don't waste time or energies. You will have this day "in the bag" if you emphasize system, accuracy, foresightedness. Study offerings well, however, before accepting or rejecting.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Hold off in those areas which need more investigation, but step up your schedule once you have the data, so as not to lose time. New opportunities soon.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Devote your attention to completing routine matters, rather than attempting long-range undertakings. A good day for advancing in business. Avoid anxiety.

YOU BORN TODAY are enthusiastic about life, a realist in performance. You get facts first, and are brief in presenting them, thus making a good impression. You reach conclusions in orderly fashion, are normally careful in expressing yourself. You are ready for, and often assist in bringing about, reforms, better methods. Your talents, ably directed, could mean big achievement during the coming year.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

LIVING SKELETONS

Malnutrition always leads to cannibalism, but not the type practiced by African natives or the wild men of Borneo. The body cannibalizes its own flesh whenever an inadequate diet is consumed. Fatty deposits under the skin disappear first, followed by accumulations in the deeper structures.

All of us have seen pictures of examples of extreme weight loss among concentration camp inmates. They are apathetic, emaciated living skeletons with sunken eyeballs and prominent cheekbones. But the picture could be duplicated in many of our hospitals and nursing homes.

The majority are disabled by arthritis, heart disease, stroke, poor circulation, senility, or neurological disorders such as multiple sclerosis. These patients usually have a normal digestive system and food is available. Why are they malnourished? In some instances, the institution is at fault. The staff lacks enthusiasm and imagination and does not, or cannot, give each patient individual attention.

All too often, the responsibility lies with the patient. He has never developed good eating habits and is too sick or old to change. Others have no appetite or are indifferent to their nutritional status. Some offer a tremendous resistance to food, varying from simple obstinacy to open hostility; there are psychiatric reasons behind this type behavior.

Many would improve dramatically on a high caloric diet containing ample butter, cream, cheese, bacon, and other foods rich in nutritional value. This plan must be started gradually and supplemented with intravenous feedings, mainly of dextrose. Now and then tube feeding is needed. A hormone such as Anavar may be used to promote weight gain in some.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

BITES TONGUE IN EATING

Mrs. I. writes: My normal, healthy, happy 3-year-old bites her tongue when she eats. Sometimes the tongue bleeds. What can be done to prevent this mishap?

REPLY

Nothing, provided her tongue and teeth are normal in size and alignment. Learning to eat properly takes time, and some youngsters are slower than others in mastering the process.

TABOO IN PHLEBITIS

H.T. writes: Is massage helpful in phlebitis?

REPLY

No, massage is dangerous because it might free a piece of clot in the vein.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT—

Ears are thin and need protection in cold weather.
